TEXAS CENTENNIAL EDITION

THE MONTICELLO

Several hundred years ago the Indians, first inhabitants of this great State, gleefully watched the wild mustangs and awaited a chance to claim them as their own. Today we, students of Thomas Jefferson, just as gleefully watch our prancing Mustangs, but we already proudly claim them as our own.

Commemorating the Texas Centennial

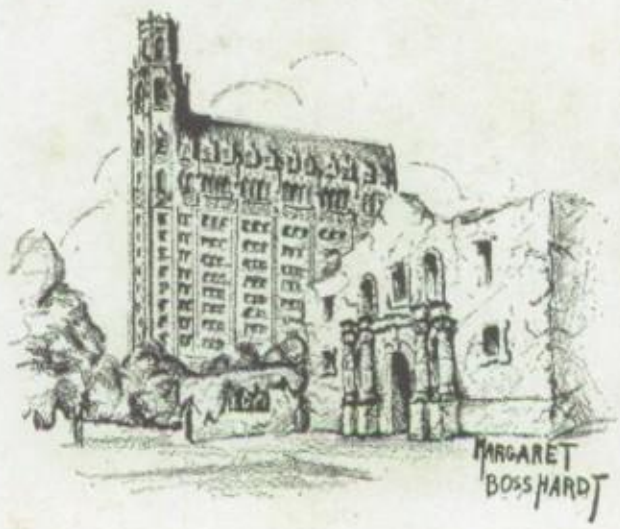
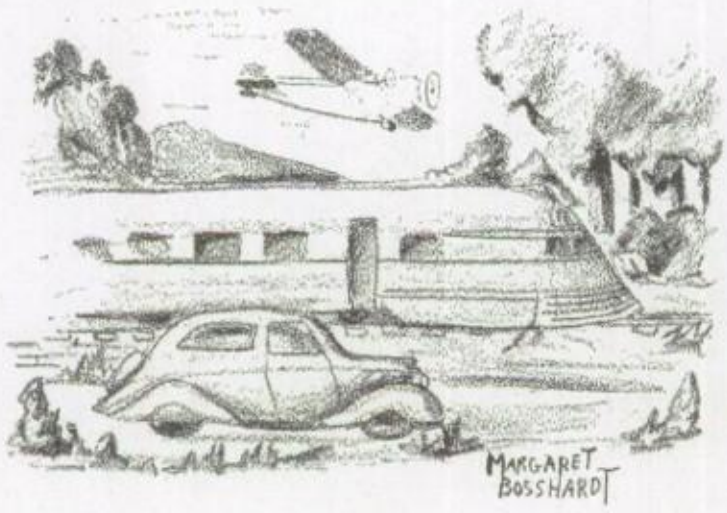
Published by the Students of
THOMAS JEFFERSON HIGH SCHOOL
San Antonio, Texas



More than a century ago, against tremendous odds, Stephen F. Austin, the "Father of Texas", and his colonists wearily wended their way into a strange new land, filled wth dangers. Today we travel safely and comfortably through our beautiful State.

FOREWORD

Our reason for making this volume a Centennial Edition may be best expressed in the words of Governor Allred of Texas: "To emphasize our glorious heritage for the benefit of our children, that they may appropriate it to themselves for the next century of Texas progress."



In this frame building, our capitol from 1837 to 1839, the second session of the First Congress met. Today our capitol in Austin, whose "massive walls stand sure, as stand the battlements of war," is second only in beauty and in size to our National Capitol in Washington.

Mirabeau B. Lamar ☆ "Father of Texas Education"

A TRIBUTE

Not merely as second President of the Republic of Texas, but as the "Father of Texas Education", we, the students of Thomas Jefferson, give our salute to Mirabeau Bonaparte Lamar. Himself gently bred, a poet and a dreamer, he was a firm believer in the importance of education. As President of the Republic of Texas he "made his vision become a fact." By his advice Congress set aside large tracts of land in each county for establishing free public school. Our stately Thomas Jefferson, a far cry from the little schoolhouse of a century ago, we owe indirectly to this great man.

T. Guy Rogers ☆ "Our Principal"

A DEDICATION

Not merely as principal of our school, but as our faithful friend and trusted adviser, we, the students of Thomas Jefferson High School, dedicate this book, a vital part of the history of our school, to Mr. T. Guy Rogers. By the aid of his human understanding and his sincere belief in us we have made this book the truest record possible of those who have worked and played in our school and given it loyal support. It is largely through the untiring efforts of Mr. Rogers and his splendid leadership that our school has attained its present heights in all phases of school life.

Our stately Thomas Jefferson High of 1936

General Sam Houston
"Liberator of Texas"

JEFFERSON

General Sam Houston, Virginian by birth, as early as 1832 casting his lot with the heroic Texans in their struggle for independence, triumphing at the Battle of San Jacinto in 1836, well deserves the title "Liberator of Texas."

"If we accept Creasy's classification of decisive battles as correct, San Jacinto must be reckoned as the sixteenth decisive battle of the world. It not only decided the fate of the Texas colonies but also pointed the way to the Pacific Ocean."

"As the ages come and go, in remote years yet to be, ... this strange, stalwart, tragic man will stand out not only as the most interesting character in our history but also as one of the most remarkable men of all time." — CLARENCE R. WHARTON.

Amid fernlike foliage our majestic building shines like alabaster against a perfect Texas sky.

Beautifully proportioned, majestic columns lend grace and dignity to a palatial portal.

Gently swaying in the breeze, graceful trees form an arch for a scene of entrancing beauty.

Viewed through fringed palms is the quiet beauty of an entrancing patio.

Framed in lacy loveliness, this artistic archway is an inspiring picture.

FACULTY

Stephen Fuller Austin, "Father of Texas," was "one of the great colonial leaders of the English-speaking people. When we reflect that it was less than fifteen years from the advent of his first colony in December, 1821, until the Battle of San Jacinto and the Republic, one must look in vain for so great an achievement in so short a time elsewhere on this continent.....No other man living knew so much of Texas needs and affairs."

Thomas Jefferson High School—a dream realized.

Mr. Thomas B. Portwood

Assistant Superintendent
Senior Division

SIX years ago a small group of engineers and school officials came to the newly-purchased site of the Thomas Jefferson High School and there amid brush and rough ground located the corner stakes for the building. It was difficult at that time to visualize a beautiful building with classrooms occupied by students and teachers engaged in busy and useful work. It was more difficult to imagine the spirit of enthusiasm and hope which always radiates from young people. It seemed that many years must pass before a real school could possibly be created on that rough plot. But now at the end of just a few years the school is a reality. As the students of Thomas Jefferson dedicate this book to Texas on her Centennial birthday, let them be mindful of the magic of growth that has taken place within six short years.

THOMAS B. PORTWOOD

A glimpse of our Principal at his desk, pausing in his busy day to greet us.

Mr. T. Guy Rogers
Principal

I look back over the years that have passed since the inauguration of Thomas Jefferson High School with a sincere feeling of gratitude to the student body for the splendid spirit of coöperation that has been manifested on every hand. There is not a finer group of young people in America. It is, indeed, an honor, as well as a pleasure, to be associated with the students of Jefferson, and my hope is always that I may be able to make a contribution, however small, to your happiness and welfare. My prayer is that, during my term of office, the instruction which you receive and the ideals with which you come in contact may always be such that wherever your paths may lead, after you have finished here, you will always be living examples of what Jefferson means in the enrichment and ennoblement of the citizens of Texas.

T. Guy Rogers

How lucky the boys are who work in Mr. Ivey's office!

Mr. A. J. Ivey
Vice-Principal

TO the entire student body of Thomas Jefferson I extend my heartiest greetings! I congratulate you for your good citizenship, your fine spirit of fair play and good sportsmanship, your lovable friendliness, your splendid sense of values, your toleration and open-mindedness, your high ideals. May you continue to face life with that admirable courage your have always exhibited while in Thomas Jefferson.

It doesn't matter what tasks you put your hearts and minds to—attack them with zeal, and keep on striving until you have attained success. Make full use of your abilities and powers, as did the founders of our great state just one hundred years ago.

Best wishes to all of you!

A. J. IVEY

What a privilege it is to work with Miss Smith!

Miss Frances Smith

Dean of Girls

As all unite during this Centennial year to pay tribute to the faith, loyalty, courage, and sacrifice of the early Texas patriots, they wonder to what extent you can make yourselves worthy of this heritage. What responsibilities will you be prepared to shoulder? What share can you have in the success and growth of the life about you?

I have confidence in you and wish you success. I hope that your life at Thomas Jefferson High School has helped prepare you to face your problems honestly, frankly, and fearlessly with an open mind, free from prejudice. May you find true happiness in doing your best at all times, keeping faith always with your own ideals.

Colonel Ben R. Milam
"Hero of Battle of Bexar"

C L A S S E S

Hero of the Battle of Bexar, the battle in which San Antonio, stronghold of the enemy, was gained for the Texans, was Ben Milam, "a man of wonderful personality, taller than his fellows, powerful in mould, and as handsome as one of Arthur's fabled knights."

Dissatisfied with the indecision as to whether San Antonio should be stormed, he defiantly called, "Who will go with old Ben Milam into San Antonio?"

"To signalize every individual act of gallantry, where no individual was found wanting to himself or to his country, would be a useless and endless effort. Every man has merited my warmest approbation and deserves his country's gratitude. The memory of Colonel Ben R. Milam, the leader of this daring and successful attack, deserves to be cherished by every patriotic person in Texas." — COLONEL F. W. JOHNSON, Commander.

Signing of Texas Declaration of Independence

The time was March 2, 1836; the place, Washington on the Brazos. Around the crude table sat fifty-eight delegates, the average age barely thirty-eight. There was no other sound in the hall save the voice of the reader of the Texas Declaration of Independence. The momentary silence ended with a roar of commendation. Delegates rushed to sign. Texas was now a Republic, another country among the nations of the earth. There in that pioneer setting was born the great State of Texas as she is today.

The first meeting of the Senior Class for 1935-1936, held on October 7 under the sponsorship of Miss Opal Hughes and Miss Geraldine Townsend, was presided over by Mr. T. Guy Rogers, Principal, and the following officers were elected: Grady Yarbrough, President; Mac Oliver, Vice-President; Margaret Ofner, Secretary; Barbara Browne, Treasurer; Catherine Pool, Parliamentarian; Peggy Locke, Reporter; Bob McGarraugh, Sergeant-at-Arms; Margaret Craig Adams, Historian.

On November 10 a tea-dance was given in the Student Council Patio, with music by the School Orchestra, refreshments planned by the students from the Home Economics Department, and tables and patio colorfully decorated with flowers from the school gardens.

On December 12 a successful circus was held in the Jefferson Gym, with Archie Heap as ring master, many entertaining acts and dances by talented seniors, and music by the School Band. The surprise feature was the announcement of the winners of the beau and belle contest, Miss M'liss Vaughn and Kirby Atwood. A dance in their honor was enjoyed in the gym that evening.

At a dance on February 28 the Monticello staff presented the successful contestants in the Hall of Fame contest. These favorites stepped from the "pages of the Annual", amid cheers of appreciation.

On May 8 the senior play, "Adam and Eva", was successfully presented, with interesting interludes. In the main foyer cake and coffee were served between acts by members of the class. An hour of dancing followed with music by the Jefferson Orchestra.

The Junior-Senior Prom, given on May 22 by the juniors in honor of the seniors, was a most enjoyable affair.

Class Day in May was a gala affair with its interesting program and the presentation of the gift to the school.

Baccalaureate services were held on Sunday, May 24, in the Municipal Auditorium, followed by Commencement exercises on Tuesday, May 26, thus bringing to a brilliant climax the activities of the Class of 1935-36.

The Last Struggle in the Alamo

"The tragedy of the Alamo has been told in story and song. The poet, the orator, the artist, and the sculptor have embellished its deeds with the splendors of romance. Its glorious memory is a priceless heritage of freedom in every land and in every clime. Time does not dim the luster of its imperishable fame. Its history is linked with the names of heroes and martyrs whose deeds of valor the world delights to honor. There has never been but one Alamo."

—Sam Houston Dixon.

Dear Alden,
It's too bad you had to leave Jeff., but I know you'll walk
off with all the honors
at Central.
Good luck,
Jane

Remember a friend Ed Simms

The first meeting of the Junior Class was held on November 5, 1935, under the able sponsorship of Mrs. Bennett and Mrs. Chadwick. The following were the officers elected to preside for the year: President, Ed Simms; Vice-President, Louis Sien; Secretary, Bernice Lehman; Treasurer, Mary Lou Powell; Parliamentarian, George Sanford; Reporter, Anne Campbell; Sergeant-at-Arms, Bill McBride; Historian, Fritz Knust.

At the meeting of the executive committee the price of dues was placed at fifty cents per term in order that the class might not be hampered in its activities.

The social events began with a leap-year dance on March 13, 1936. This was a most unusual and successful dance for the reason that conditions were reversed, each girl choosing the boy whom she desired to escort her to this social function. It had been looked forward to with gleeful anticipation by the entire school, and the affair proved to be one of the outstanding social events of the year. The returns from this dance put the Junior Class in excellent condition for the coming year.

It is the firm conviction of every member of the Junior Class that the traditional glamour and brilliance of the Junior-Senior Prom was equaled, if not surpassed, by this unusual dance.

The members of this class have shown the finest school spirit, as well as class spirit, by entering fully, as a unit, into all of the activities of the school. The class has furnished its full quota for every phase of school life — scholastic, athletic, editorial, social, and military.

The beautiful decoration of the stage and the auditorium for the baccalaureate sermon and commencement exercises was, as tradition demands, the willing work of the Junior Class.

The Battle of San Jacinto

Across the great open space and up the hill, without bayonets, seven hundred twenty-five courageous Texan foot soldiers charged in a double line, two men deep. As the four-piece hastily-improvised band played "Will You Come to My Bower?", the shrill battle cry, "Remember Goliad—Remember the Alamo," rang out. As the forces "fronted each other this day, they were in a struggle for the boundary line of distinct civilizations." The success of this battle essentially changed the history of the world.

SOPHOMORES

The Sophomore Class of Thomas Jefferson High School held the initial meeting on September 17, 1935, for the purpose of electing a committee for the nomination of officers.

At the succeeding meeting the following were chosen from a well-selected group of nominees: President, Bob Burney; Vice-President, Dorothy Perkins; Secretary, Glory Henning; Treasurer, Cedric Landon; Parliamentarian, Charles Taylor; Sergeant-at-Arms, Leslie Newman; Historian, Sybil Rollett.

The sophomores were particularly fortunate in being given two of Jefferson's best-loved and most capable teachers as their sponsors, Miss Mamie Stein and Mr. T. A. Abbott, under whose supervision a year of interesting and well-conducted meetings was enjoyed, the coöperative spirit being evident from the very first meeting.

On February 7, 1936, a delightful social was held in the school cafeteria. The refreshment table was adorned with a beautiful red and blue floral centerpiece. This bit of color was surrounded by a variety of delicious refreshments. Besides being thoroughly entertaining, this social gave the sophomores an opportunity to extend a cordial welcome to the mid-term graduates of the junior high schools. Many members of the faculty were guests on this happy occasion.

In February the sophomores who had just entered Jefferson were made still more a part of the school by their group picture for the annual being made by the "Monticello". This is the first time in the history of our school that mid-term sophomores have been included in the pages of the Annual.

The aim of this sophomore class has been to become acquainted with our school and its faculty and to do our work so well that we may be creditable members of the student body and worthy graduates of Thomas Jefferson High School in 1938.

Colonel William Barrett Travis

"Immortal Hero of the Alamo"

FAVORITES

Youngest and most colorful leader in the Texans' fight for liberty, Colonel Travis showed a reckless scorn of death that won for him immortal fame. His lofty patriotism that impelled him to remain in the Alamo and die deliberately may be understood by these lines from one of his last letters:

"The power of the enemy is to be met here or in the colonies; we had better meet him here than to suffer a war of devastation to rage in our settlements."

Across the space of a century we now see that the sacrifice in the Alamo was no defeat for the Texans; it was victory in that it led to San Jacinto and to all that Texas means for us today.

David Crockett
"Hero of the Alamo"

ORGANIZATIONS

David Crockett's life is truly a romance. On the fateful day when, even as the enemy in its thousands entered the town, Travis ordered the Texas troops into the Alamo, David Crockett and his Tennessee "boys" were assigned the picket wall and the palisade where the largest eighteen-pounder was mounted.

Crockett was one of the last six men alive in the Alamo on that tragic March morning one hundred years ago. Like a lion at bay, his shattered Betsy rifle in his right hand, his bloody bowie-knife in his left hand, fully twenty of the enemy dead or dying at his feet, he stood, a magnificent symbol of courage. Even though a dozen swords soon found his heart, he uttered no moan even as he fell. The long twelve-day siege of 8,000 trained troops of the enemy against one hundred eighty-two courageous Texans was finished at last.

Architectural Club

The Architectural Club was established in Thomas Jefferson in 1932 in an endeavor to promote a wider interest in and appreciation of architecture and to develop better friendship, fellowship, and close association among those students who have studied drawing or those who are now studying it. It has been ably sponsored from the beginning by Mr. Leon Taliaferro of the drawing department.

The current activities of the club consist of field trips to buildings of interest, where methods of actual construction are studied. Several interesting field trips were taken in the spring, the trips to the new post office and the new junior high school being the most important.

At present the most important activity is a contest among the members of the club, who are divided into two teams. Points toward winning the contest are secured by interesting methods. At each meeting each team receives points determined by the attendance of its members and their payment of dues. Participants may also obtain points by bringing in samples of building materials. Winners of individual drawing contests also net points for their respective teams. The losing team will honor the winners with a picnic at the end of the school year.

Several interesting social affairs have been enjoyed by the club. The initiation, held in Brackenridge Park, was one of the most enjoyable activities of the club during the fall term. A banquet in the near future is contemplated, together with several outings and picnics.

The officers for the spring term are as follows: President, Joseph Dart; Vice-President, Fred Studer; Secretary, Arnold Schindler; Treasurer, Billy Bauer; Parliamentarian, John Kenagy; Sergeant-at-Arms, Charles Cope.

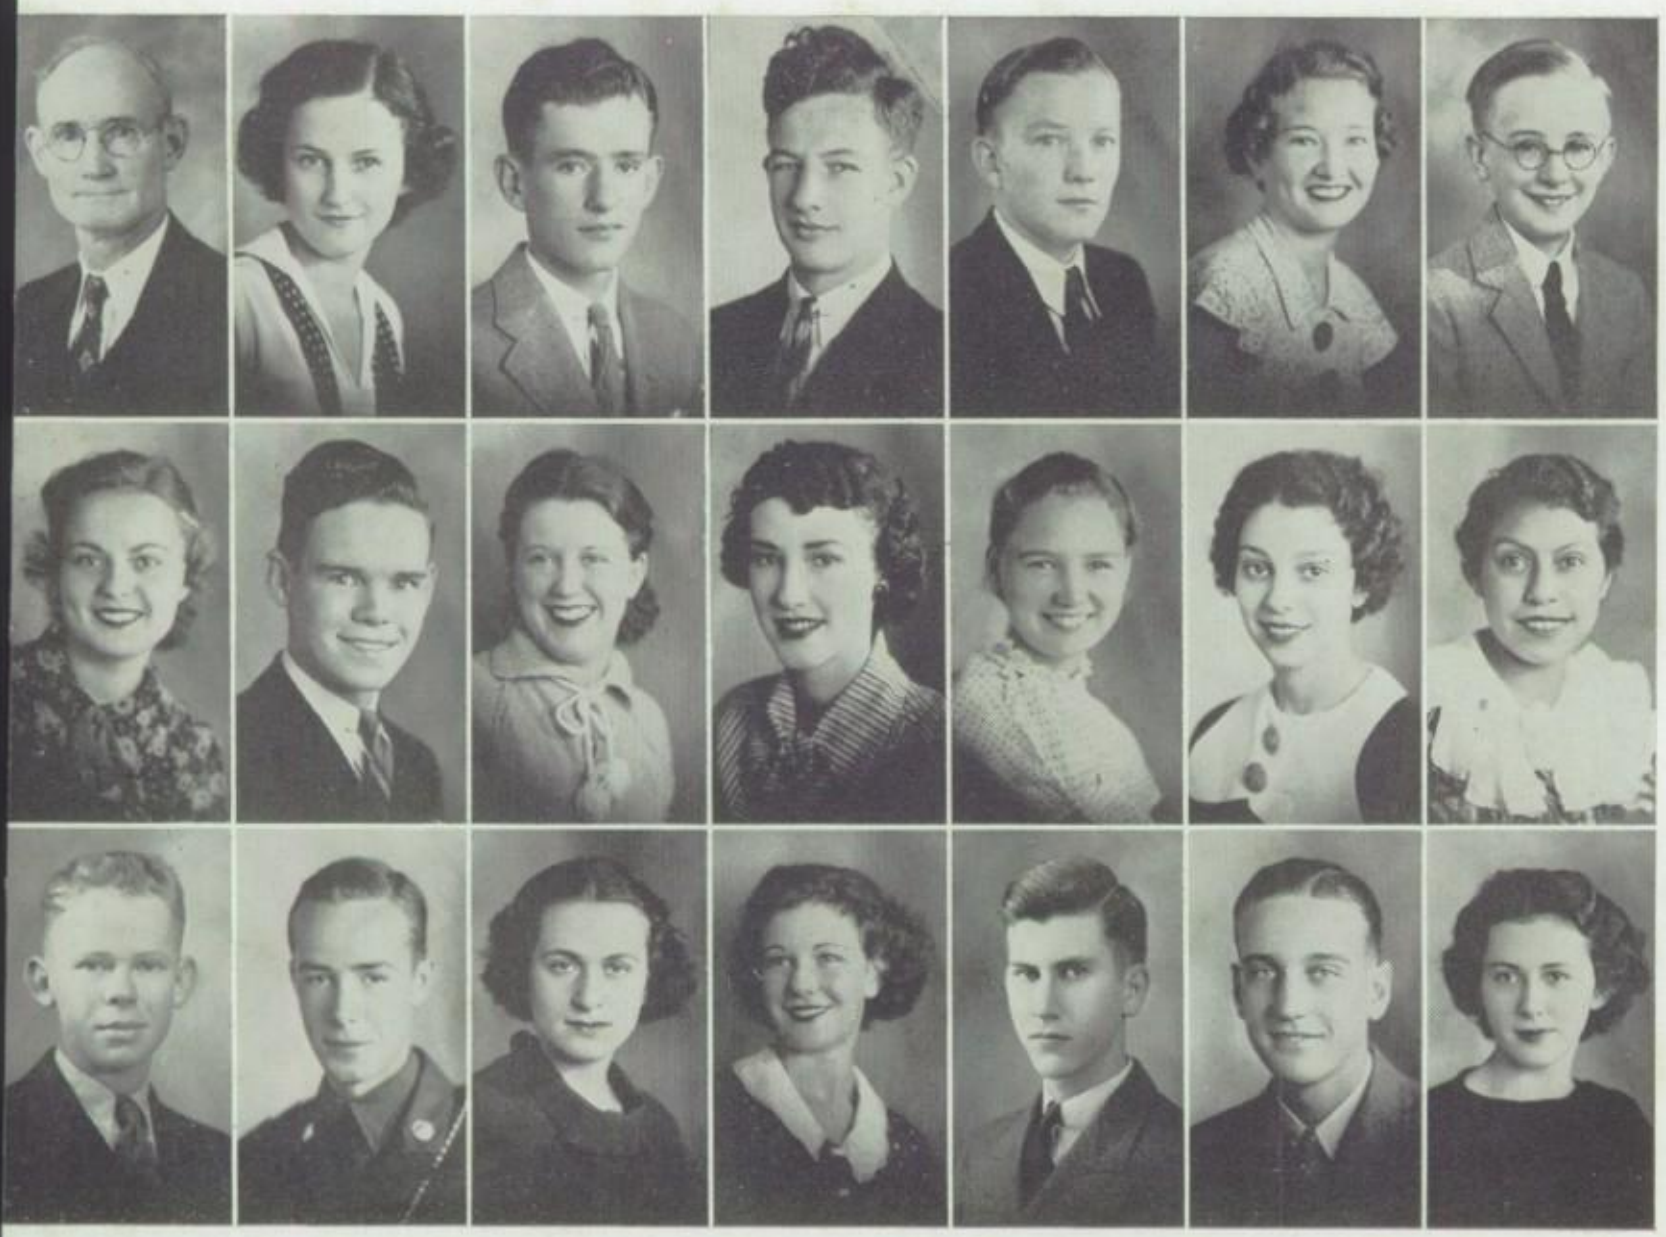
Barrie Dramatic Club

The James Barrie Dramatic Club was organized in 1932 under the sponsorship of Miss Nell Beasley, the purpose being to present plays and to study dramatics.

Some very interesting work has been done during the past year, the club sponsor now being Miss Ethel Orrell, who, through her personality, has made the girls realize the value and importance of dramatics. The club has sponsored a story-telling hour at the Protestant Orphans' Home, every two weeks a group of the club members having prepared interesting short stories to tell to the orphans. The club has also urged all of the students of the school to enter a contest for the best piece of written work pertaining to dramatics. To give evidence of the talent of its members, the club entertained the entire student body with a Christmas assembly entitled "Why the Chimes Rang." This proved to be a great success, portraying to the students the real meaning of Christmas and filling their hearts with the true Christmas spirit.

The club's social activities have also been interesting. Miss Orrell entertained the club with a very lovely Christmas party at her home. On January 27 the club gave a leap-year party, the girls asking their own dates and waiting on the boys during the entire party. At this party an indoor scavenger hunt was enjoyed by all. Several weeks after this affair the members and their friends enjoyed a skating party.

On January 22 election of officers was held. Leta Rue Hobbs was reelected President. Sibyl Jones was elected Vice-President; Prestyne Hocker, Secretary; Theresa Sirianni, Treasurer; Sara Katherine Curtis, Reporter; Hettye Thomas, Parliamentarian and Historian.



Top Row: — Mr. H. Y. May, Sponsor; Sarah Guttman, Pres.; David Berchelman, Vice-Pres.; George Krise, See'y; James Parker, Treas.; Virginia Witt, Hist.; Bobby Barclay. Edison Science Club

The Thomas Edison Science Club of Thomas Jefferson was organized February 11, 1932, under the sponsorship of Mr. H. Y. May. Its object is to foster interest in the study of science, to give the students of science an opportunity to investigate matters of interest that cannot be included in regular courses of study, and to make excursions that cannot be made on regular school time. To achieve these objects programs are planned which include demonstrations and discussions of subjects that are of interest to the members.

During the year the programs have been centered around such subjects as "Bees", led by Esther Scharlack; "Indian Archaeology", led by Preston Morgan; "The Story of A Thousand Year Pine", led by David Parker; "The Story of Salt", led by Martha Darby, Jimmie Lambert, Rual Askew, and Virginia Kelly. By invitation of the Texas Science Club a program was rendered before that body on March 17, 1936, in which program the following took part: George Krise, James Parker, Lillian Pashkoff, Walter Mathis, and David Parker. The general theme of this program was "One Hundred Years of Science in Texas."

Each year a trip has been made to Robber Baron's Cave or some other place of scientific interest. This year a trip was made to Cascade Cavern. This is an annual picnic, but every year the members get something new out of their adventure. Another trip is planned for the spring.

Officers for the spring term are the following: President, David Parker; Vice-President, Esther Scharlack; Secretary, Sarah Guttman; Treasurer, Martha Darby; Sergeant-at-Arms, James Parker; Historian and Reporter, Virginia Witt.

Ellen H. Richards Club

On January 8, 1934, the members of the Ellen H. Richards Club received their charter. This club, which is sponsored by Miss Marguerite Barbara McFarland, was named for Mrs. Ellen H. Richards, the first president of the American Home Economics Association and one of the early home economists.

Membership is not limited to home economics students; it is extended to all interested, especially to those who have never had the opportunity to place home economics in their schedules. It is for the benefit of these students that the programs include laboratory activities for those who want to prepare foods. This gives an opportunity for motivating and enriching classroom work. In December the members had one meeting when they made candy; some of the candy was served at the Christmas tea that the girls in the department gave honoring the Parent-Teachers' Association, and recipes for the candies were given the parents and teachers.

The program includes the celebration of Home Economics Day, or Ellen H. Richards Day, December 3. This year some of the interesting talks given were "Dressing According to Type" and "Interesting Markets in New Orleans."

Besides educational values the club has social advantages. In November the members entertained the football boys and their coach with a party in the home economics laboratory. The president, Helen Slimp, entertained the members with a party at her home and with a luncheon at the Milam Cafeteria. Every spring the club has a tea honoring the charter members.

The Club coöperates heartily in such activities as Christmas Cheer work and in helping other clubs.

This year the members have affiliated with the American Home Economics Association and with the Texas Home Economics Association, this affiliation entitling the members to wear an association pin.

Entertainers

The Entertainers' Club was organized October 12, 1932, under the co-sponsorship of Miss Marguerite Perez and Mr. Alex Murphree. Now, under the sponsorship of Miss Perez and Miss Stone, the proceeds of the club's entertainments are donated to any project that may be of benefit to the school. Shows given under their direction have proved very successful, the students looking forward to them with great enthusiasm. Radio programs given by members of the club are always in demand.

Talent for the organization comes from all over the United States. Miss Katherine Mooney possesses the most talented personality the club has to offer. Her teeth-swivel act and her breath-taking contortion acts are far above the ordinary.

Other outstanding performers in the club are Helen Mintel, Cleo Eaton, Margaret Ofner, Elaine Schulze, Mary Ruth Belcher, Barbara Furlong, Jean MacDonald, and Harold Kraft. Cleo Eaton and Katherine Mooney performed at the World's Fair in Chicago. This past summer they and Margaret Ofner traveled more than 7,000 miles through five states with a musical revue.

The aim of the club is to be in readiness for any call from the executives of the school to assist with programs for local organizations. The club is always eager to assist either by lending talent to other clubs or donating funds derived from entertainments for school projects or equipment.

Euclidean Mathematics Club

The Euclidean Mathematics Club was organized at Thomas Jefferson High School on February 25, 1932, under the co-sponsorship of Mrs. Helen Bolton and Miss Mattie Brooks. The charter members included the high-ranking members of various mathematics classes. Much to the regret of the club members, Miss Brooks was compelled to resign because of conflicting interests. The club was appropriately named in honor of Euclid, a famous mathematician of the third century B. C., who wrote the first and the most famous textbook on geometry in the world.

The purpose of the club is to increase the interest in mathematics in Thomas Jefferson High School and to form a congenial relationship among those students who have shown an aptitude for mathematics.

It has been the custom during each year to give short programs following the regular business meetings. Some of the interesting and entertaining talks on the various programs have dealt with mathematics, while others pertained to the business of the moment. Thus business and pleasures were combined.

On November 4 of this year the Constitution of the club was read by Louise Barnes in order that the members might acquaint themselves with the regulations of the club. This was followed by a talk on "The Life of Euclid" by Ruth Joyce.

At another meeting it was the privilege of the members to hear a talk given by the principal of Thomas Jefferson High School, Mr. T. Guy Rogers. The interesting discussion traced the development of the science of mathematics from the beginning of time to the present era.

Euclidean Mathematics Club

At a later date the informal discussion of "Oddities in Mathematics" given by Marjorie Walthall following a business meeting was thoroughly enjoyed by an incredulous audience.

Embodying the programs of several other meetings were the plans for the contemplated assembly. Various members who had been previously appointed gave reports on plays which would be suitable for an assembly.

During the year two successful candy sales were given by the club. The first, on November 13, provided seven dollars and twenty cents as a contribution of the club to a fund for the purchase of the school band uniforms. The second sale, occurring on February 25, was for the purpose of paying part of the incurred debt to the Monticello.

In the social line a delightful party was given in the teachers' cafeteria on October 29. The executive committee were hostesses for the affair. Miss Brooks, who has maintained an active interest in the club's activities, was the honor guest. Mr. Rogers contributed a lovely floral basket in honor of the occasion. Punch and cake were served. About thirty members attended the social.

As the final climax of the year a picnic was held at Miss Brooks's country place opposite the Scenic Loop Playground. The usual picnic array was served, and various games were enjoyed by everyone present.

Officers of the second term are as follows: President, Laura Anne Wimer; Vice-President, Le Gros Smith; Secretary, Ruth Joyce; Historian and Reporter, Bettie Steele Murray; Parliamentarian, Lorraine Patteson; Sgt.-at-Arms, Delfina Gariel.

Euterpean Musical Society

The Euterpean Musical Society, under the sponsorship of Mr. Francis de Burgos, was organized soon after the opening of Thomas Jefferson in February, 1932. The organization is named for Euterpe, the Muse of music. Even before Jefferson was built, plans had been made for the formation of a club with the purpose of practicing melody construction, but the founding of such an organization had not been realized because of crowded conditions in Main Avenue High School.

Pupils studying harmony make up the membership of the club; however, students who have unusual talent are allowed to become members by popular vote of the club. The Euterpean Society is the only one of its kind in Thomas Jefferson. The club is rapidly pushing forward, and a great future is anticipated for it.

James Nipper was the first president of the society, with Allie May Wilson succeeding him. Margaret Briggs became the third, and following her were Lylith Stein and Mary Elizabeth Rayburn. Ruth Walker is presiding this year.

Meetings of this club are held twice a month, and a short, entertaining program always follows each business meeting. The Euterpeans are not only growing in number but are also acquiring a keener interest in music and an appreciation of music. Every member is capable of doing something in the way of music.

Ever alive and alert to the interests of the day in a musical way, the Euterpeans had an amateur hour. This proved to be one of the most interesting programs of the year with each member taking part, Mr. de Burgos ever ready to sound the "gong" if necessary.

The officers of the club are as follows: President, Ruth Walker; Vice-President, Catherine Pool; Secretary, Geraldine Blumberg; Historian and Reporter, Eunice Schilling; Treasurer, Harriet Dibble.

Knickerbocker

Organized by a group of Jefferson High School students during the spring term of 1933, the Knickerbocker Literary Society was first sponsored by Miss Suggs, instructor in history. Later Miss Evers, of the commercial department, took over the club, which was named after Washington Irving's Knickerbocker. Miss Evers has also proved to be a very good friend and a helper to all the club members.

The purpose of the Knickerbockers is to bring together students of Thomas Jefferson, to promote worthy causes in the school, and to study the works of outstanding American authors.

The Knickerbocker Club is a Wednesday club, meeting every second and fourth Wednesday of the month. The first meeting of the month is for business concerning the club, and the second is a social meeting held in the homes of our different members. The members of the Knickerbocker Club take a great deal of interest in social work, such as helping the poor. They also help to keep the school patios looking pretty.

One of the most delightful socials held this year was at the home of two of our members, Nell and Beulah Heath. We played various games, refreshments being served later by the old members, honoring the new members. At the conclusion of the social the new members were initiated, to the delight of the older members, this initiation having been carefully planned by an initiation committee.

Officers for the second term are as follows: President, Amy Ruth Thorn; Vice-President, Nell Heath; Secretary, Katherine Baumbach; Treasurer, Margaret Perrin; Historian, Ruby Saenz; Reporter, Lois Baumbach.

Hayne Debating Society

While Texas is celebrating its one-hundredth birthday as a state, the Hayne Debating Society is celebrating its fiftieth birthday, for it was organized in 1885. Well was this event remembered last May, for the Hayne Golden Anniversary dance was one of the outstanding events of its semi-Centennial year.

So far as the club has been able to ascertain, it is the oldest high school club in Texas to have been continuously in operation. During its fifty-one years it has rendered signal service to the school and the community. To see the results of its training one has but to read the names of some of its distinguished members. Limited space makes it impossible to list them all, but some of those who are doing their part for San Antonio now are Senator Joe Hill, Pat Swearingen, John and Lucius Bickett, William Church, and Robert Ayres.

Although we do not have access to the complete files of the "Huisache", a few representative years have been selected to give a glimpse of the interests and character of its members. In 1902 we find Miss Scofield and Guy Haltom consulting with Principal Lukin in regard to reorganizing the club.

In 1917 the Haynes felt that their successful term "must be attributed to the officers who have guided the oldest club in the high school."

During the fall of 1918-1919 the Hayne Debating Society recessed, following the custom of many organizations of like character and purpose, because of the necessity of devoting energy and money to patriotic measures. The members invested as heavily as possible in War Savings and devoted their energies to war work. Self-denial became not only a duty but also a pleasure. With Armistice Day, however, the Haynes again began holding regular meetings.

Hayne Debating Society

In 1920 both representatives of Main in the debate with Brackenridge were Hayne men. The three boys' clubs of the school entertained the three girls' clubs with a delightful dance at old Harmony Hall.

The next record to which we have access is 1923. This year the Haynes lost only two out of nine of the Inter-Club debates, represented Main in the declamation contest against Brackenridge, and again represented Main in the Interscholastic tennis singles and doubles. During this term the Haynes held two banquets followed by theater parties.

Hayne members again represented the school in 1924 in the debating club and in the declamation contest.

In 1925 Main was again represented by Hayne men both in debate and in declamation. Also members of the Haynes were president of the Student Council, editor of the Annual, and editor of the "Huisache".

The Golden Anniversary was celebrated in 1934-1935. This was indeed an outstanding year. The presidents of the senior class, the National Honor Society, and the Science Club, as well as several other officers in clubs and in the R.O.T.C., were from the Hayne Debating Society.

The term of 1935-1936 has been perhaps the most pleasant and profitable the club has had. The dance was made successful by a new and excellent orchestra. We have also entertained with skating.

The officers for the spring term are as follows: President, Fred Houck; Vice-President, Graham Raht; Secretary, Fritz Knust; Treasurer, David Berchelman; Parliamentarian, Sylvan Kaplan; Sergeants-at-Arms, Kirby Atwood and Wallace Powers.

Hermes Club

The Hermes Club was organized in the fall term of 1933 for social and study purposes. The membership is limited to seventy-five girls under the sponsorship of Mrs. Mary Leathers.

The club colors are blue and silver and are displayed on a banner, a poster, pins, and stickers, all of which bear the characteristic Hermes symbol of the winged foot.

Prior to this year the club has confined its activities to occasions of pleasure and benefit to its own members. This year, however, a school project has been selected and great interest is being shown by the members, who are divided into committees to work under the leadership of their president, with the advice and guidance of Mrs. Leathers. The project that has been decided upon is the beautification of the school grounds just west of the auditorium.

Social occasions for the year 1935-1936 included two initiation parties, both of which were held at the home of Miss Silsbee Telotte, a weiner roast at the Scenic Loop Playground lodge of Miss Annie Laura Dietzel, and an informal Christmas dance at the home of Miss Clara Safir. These two parties were enjoyed by all — even the initiates.

The spring term opened with a buffet supper at the home of Miss Helen Ruth Brown followed by a movie party, to which the club mascots and many former members were invited. This was indeed an enjoyable occasion.

Hermes Club

The Valentine dance at the home of Miss Virginia Hill was the occasion on which the new mascots were announced. They are Bill Halloran, Ralph Lehr, Alex Safir, Sidney Wittels, and Judson Taylor.

The annual spring dance took place in the Jefferson gymnasium. The Texas Centennial furnished the motif for the unusual decorations and also for the floor show, making the affair a memorable one among the year's social events.

A formal tea honoring the mothers of the members was given in April. This was followed by a very informal picnic supper party in the same month.

In May the final event of the club's social season was a luncheon given in honor of the seniors.

The Hermes Club, while a comparatively young organization, has shown great activity. This is attributed by the sponsor to the splendid interest and coöperation shown by the members and the careful planning and hard work of the club officers.

The spring term executives are as follows: President, Dorothy Flowers; Vice-President, Silsbee Telotte; Secretary, Margaret Marcus; Treasurer, Clara Safir; Historian, Anna Laura Dietzel; Parliamentarian, Joyce Harper; Sergeant-at-Arms, Virginia Hill; Reporter, Winifred McRae.

Jeffersonian Forum

The Jeffersonian Forum is a group of boys who have united themselves for the purpose of serving their school and also more fully enjoying the life here. This organization, first established in Main Avenue High School, is one of the oldest school clubs in the city. The Forum is now under the able direction of Mr. T. C. Burnett and Mr. H. C. Doolittle, sponsors. We feel that a pleasanter, more profitable, year could not have been spent. The club attributes much of its success to the fact that every member has an active part in the club's work. Every question that arises is settled by majority vote of the members. Frequent programs after regular meetings show that there is much talent in the club.

The Forum, as always, was very enthusiastic this year and went into action immediately. The initiation of the pledges was promptly attended to and took place behind the school. Then plans were made for our first affair of this school year. The club accepted the use of Bob Ashby's home, and it was agreed upon to have a treasure hunt as a means of entertainment. The hunt led the members to practically every part of San Antonio in order to secure an inviting prize.

A few weeks later a dance was held in the home of Ella Taylor, one of the three mascots.

The Shakespeare Literary Society, sister club to the Jeffs, invited the Jeff members to a social at the home of Anne Boyle. The Forum accepted the invitation and enjoyed a delightful afternoon.

As a return courtesy, the Jeffs entertained at the home of Charles Hoefgen, honoring the Shakespeares. This happy occasion will long be remembered by the club.

Jeffersonian Forum

Then the club had an outing at Francis Simpson's place on the beautiful scenic loop; this affair gave all-day enjoyment to the members and the girls whom they invited.

One triumph of the social program was the annual fall dance of the Jeffs. The Thanksgiving spirit prevailed as the boys and girls danced in the school gymnasium to the rhythmic strains of Emit Rhom's orchestra. Mr. Rogers, Miss Smith, and Mr. Ivey were present as well as many other members of the faculty. The affair was a tremendous success and one of the most colorful dances of the year. The returns from the dance were given to the school to aid in the purchase of the beautiful, new band uniforms.

The Forum enjoyed a prosperous spring term under the guidance of Charles Hoefgen, president. The club early formed plans for its annual spring dance to be given with the Shakespeare Literary Society. This dance was one of the most enjoyable of all given during the year.

A fountain will be given to the school by the Jeffs. It is to be erected in the rear of the school. Our plans are many; the members are eager to coöperate with the officers. The fine spirit of loyalty and good fellowship, so characteristic of the Jeffersonian Forum, accounts for its success.

Officers during the spring term are the following: President, Charles Hoefgen; Vice-President, Ed Luke; Secretary, Jimmie Chasey; Treasurer, Joe Dart; Sergeant-at-Arms, Bill Le Baron; Parliamentarian, Harry Albaugh; Historian, Lawrence Wood.

Latin Club

The Latin Club of Thomas Jefferson High School, one of the largest academic clubs in the school, was founded in February, 1933, by those students who had come from Main Avenue High School with the desire to carry on the high ideals of the former club. The club is fortunate in having as its sponsors Miss Pearl West and Miss Gladys Morgan, the charter sponsors at Main Avenue. One of the first study clubs to be reorganized, the Latin Club had two purposes to be fulfilled — the encouragement of interest in the Latin language and the idea of making an opportunity for the students of Latin to become better acquainted socially. The former object is accomplished by organized entertainments at the meetings. Plays, games, and poems based on Latin are presented, the students taking an active part both in the presentation and the appreciation.

The social activities of the club are taken up with the meetings held each month in the home of one of the members. As guests, the students begin to realize their social obligations and to enjoy the hospitality of their classmates. Refreshments are furnished by the various classes and served by the host and hostess.

This year the club began its meetings at the home of Mary and Catherine Pool, where a get-acquainted plan was followed with the students making new friends among the members. As the roll was called, each member rose and gave his name and the year of Latin which he was taking. Sandwiches, cookies, and punch were served in the yard by the hostesses.

Latin Club

In November the club met as the guest of Betty Jane Mavrico. The meeting was held in her large dancing studio, where ample room was provided for the program of the day. With Andrew Thompson acting as an amateur Major Bowes, a delightful show was presented, various members of the club acting as players. After several selections of songs, piano playing, and expression pieces, the amateurs were voted on by the entire club. A large stick of candy was awarded Madeline Leel for her rendition of the song "Trees" by Joyce Kilmer. The club enjoyed punch and cake after the entertainment.

The Christmas motif was carried out in the home of Josephine Houston, where the December meeting was held. Using the Roman Saturnalia as a theme, the president, Gilbert Denman, gave a short talk on the old Latin custom. Each member brought a present, which was dropped in a box in the middle of the room. As the roll was called, each drew another one from it as his Christmas present from some person in the room. As amusing as well as useful gift was obtained by each; after the exchange of gifts the hostess served ice cream and cake in the dining room.

To add variety in the meetings, the club decided to have the next meeting at school, at which time a play was presented by the Virgil class. The skit was an amusing satire on what would happen if Horace should suddenly return to life in the present century. With various students of Latin VIII taking the parts, everyone thought the play was a great success. Miss Morgan's classes provided cookies and punch, served in the patio.

The February meeting was held in the home of Jane McIntosh. An extensive outdoor treasure hunt was planned but was somewhat delayed because of bad weather. However, even this did not prevent two lucky members, Peaches Brewer and Robbie Thomas, from finding a dollar bill apiece. Jane served lovely refreshments, and everybody thoroughly enjoyed the meeting.

Andrew Thompson was host in his home in March. An interesting program was planned by the members, and new officers for the next term were elected. Suitable people for the offices were chosen by the Virgil class, acting as nominating committee, and the entire club voted on the names. Mrs. Thompson served delicious sandwiches and cookies when the business was over.

During April the club held its annual picnic at the Scenic Loop Play Grounds. This is one of the most enjoyable features of the year, as we always have plenty of fun and food. After a refreshing swim and hike the members returned to the Inn, where they hungrily ate weiners, soda water, and potato chips. Tired and sleepy, they returned home with their parents, who were invited if they cared to attend.

Latin Club

The garden party was held this year on Gilbert Denman's beautiful lawn. Always a special occasion, this meeting will always be remembered for its entertainment and joyful surroundings. As it was the last meeting of the year, the club honored its seniors and bade them farewell. Lovely refreshments were served by the host, the perfect garden setting adding to the enjoyment. Awards were also made at the garden party to the outstanding student in each Latin class.

At the close of the term an assembly was presented as usual, at which time those students making an "A" average throughout Latin VII and VIII were awarded bronze medals. These Virgil medals bear the inscription "Res Mehi Non Res Rebus", meaning "Things to myself, not myself to things, I subordinate." This honor was conferred upon the following students: Louise Cherry, Gilbert Denman, Elizabeth Frizzell, Josephine Houston, Myra Lagerquist, Andrew Thompson, and M'liss Vaughan.

Always among the members of the Latin Club are the outstanding pupils of the school. Many of them will be found as members of the National Honor Society, the Student Council, the Hall of Fame, and as staff members of the "Declaration" and the "Monticello." Intellectually and socially the Latin Club is one of the most potential organizations in Thomas Jefferson. The club firmly supports all school activities and is continually striving for the betterment of itself and the entire school.

La Sociedad Ibera---Latina

Last year La Sociedad Ibera-Latina was brought into existence under the direction of Miss Angela M. Chappelle, sponsor. From a purely departmental club it has gradually evolved into a partly social club, which devotes some of its meetings to the study of the customs, art, and literature of the various Spanish-speaking countries. These meetings are educational as well as interesting.

William Lucas entertained the members of the club and their guests at his home, 142 North Drive, in May, 1935.

Initiation was held in the home of Rosalina Torres, secretary, on October 30, 1935. Santos Marmolejo made a welcome speech and conducted a ceremony for the new members, after which games were played and refreshments enjoyed.

In November of 1935 the club presented a program on Mexico to the Pan-American Club. Delfina Gariel gave a talk on Saltillo, and Irma Canton and Eva Treviño danced "La Jarana". Rosalina Torres talked on Yucatan. Santos Marmolejo was mistress of ceremonies.

To welcome prospective members the club met Wednesday, February 26, in the teachers' cafeteria, where games and punch and cookies were enjoyed.

A candy sale was conducted during the latter part of the second term for the purpose of raising funds for the club project, the furnishing of materials for a Mexican costume to be the property of Thomas Jefferson High School.

Officers for the second term are the following: President, Santos Marmolejo; Vice-President, Oscar Garza; Secretary, Rosalina Torres; Treasurer, Lydia Jimenez; Parliamentarian, Alice Treviño; Historian, Delfina Gariel; Reporter, Esperanza Velasco.

Le Cercle Francais

Le Cercle Francais was reorganized on February 29, 1933, under the same name that it had carried at Main Avenue High School. It was placed under the very able sponsorship of Miss Louise Brunet, who is responsible for its success.

As the club's purpose is to increase the interest of its members in France, the members join the World League. Members correspond with students of other countries, each writing in his own language; the members of the French Club usually correspond with young French people.

Socials are held every two months at members' homes; regular meetings, at the seventh period every other Tuesday.

Meetings this year have been very interesting, the club having devoted its programs to a study of French influence on Texas.

The club's project is to plant a row of double poinsettias along the front of the left wing of the school. The necessary funds have been realized by French pastry sales.

On March 4 Miss Brunet entertained the club members with a Centennial luncheon. The center piece was composed of the six flags under which Texas served. The Centennial colors were carried out in the table decorations.

New members are Rual Askew, Jerry Busby, Amanda Hurst, Florence Miller, Margaret Tucker, Catherine Campbell, Leru Huxtable, and Marjorie Le Bleu.

The officers for the second term are as follows: President, Lorraine Radinsky; Vice-President, Helen Stewart; Secretary, Robert Ravicz; Treasurer, Amanda Lee Mitchell; Parliamentarian, Geraldine Blumberg; Reporter, Margaret Tucker; Historian, Jerry Busby.

Les Grandes Prix

The L. G. P., organized by four charter members in 1933, is a social club under the sponsorship of Mrs. Bartlett Cocke. The club has for its project the purchase of stone benches for the school, although it coöperates in all school activities.

Taking in more than twenty new members, the club immediately subjected them to pledge duty. Their unique and tormenting pledge duty consisted of wearing their hair severely brushed back and tied with large, red bows and wearing red woolen stockings on their arms. They wore real radishes and a red sash, but they wore no make-up. The new members were ushered into the club at the home of Myrtle Macha, president, and were later guests at a luncheon given in their honor at the Gunter Hotel.

Outstanding in the club activities of the year was the Christmas Dance held on the night of December 20 at the home of Evelyn Thomas. Beginning the gay Christmas holidays, the dance was a pronounced success.

The club also sponsored a candy sale. The rapid, almost phenomenal, disappearance of the candy aided the club's treasury materially.

The spring activities were likewise interesting. New members were accepted into the club and initiated; a candy sale was sponsored, which abetted the already thriving reputation of the Les Grandes Prix for good homemade candy; and the newly initiated members were honored by a banquet at the Original. Plans were made for a dance.

The spring term officers are as follows: President, Myrtle Macha; Vice-President, Marjorie Chisholm; Secretary, Jacki Hixon; Treasurer, Patricia O'Leary; Reporter, Ruby McGee; Historian, Shirley Morgan.

Modernist Literary Society

The Modernist Literary Society was organized in Thomas Jefferson High School on March 2, 1932, as a continuation of the Athena Club of Main Avenue High School. It is a social club under the sponsorship of Miss Marie Barrett. The club colors are green and black.

The purpose of this club is to study the lives and works of modern authors and to afford entertainment for the girls.

Business meetings and programs are conducted alternately. Once a month a social meeting is held at the home of one of the members.

The membership is limited to sixty girls and is by invitation, with the requirements of a "C" average.

One of the most enjoyable socials held during the fall term was a tea honoring new members in the home of Marion Badders. The officers formed the reception line, and approximately forty members called during the afternoon. At this tea pictures of the girls were taken for the feature section of the Annual.

Our fall initiation was, as usual, an occasion of great fun and festivity. The pledges entertained the club during the evening, and after the initiation they enjoyed ice cream and cake.

The officers for the spring term are as follows: President, Marie Kramer; Vice-President, Katherine Bennetzen; Secretary, Dixie Weddington; Treasurer, Hattie Mae Carpenter; Parliamentarian, Virginia Witt; Sergeant-at-Arms, Marie Chapa; Historian, Betty Rascoe.

Top Row: — Mrs. Mary E. Taliaferro, Sponsor; Helen Mintel, Pres.; Louise Leonard, Vice-Pres.; Enid Roessler, Sec'y; Helen Stewart, Treas.; June Broe, Parl.; Opal Bush, Sgt.-at-Arms. Martha Jefferson Randolph

The Martha Jefferson Randolph Debating Society held its regular club meetings on Wednesday afternoons during this school term. Socials were held on every third Wednesday of the month in the homes of various members.

The M. J. R.'s opened their social activities with a luncheon at the Bright Shawl on November 2, 1935, honoring the new members. After a lovely luncheon the formal candle initiation service was held, and each new member took the oath of membership. The club song, written by Barbara Hale and Virginia Anderson, was introduced at the close of the luncheon.

On November 6, 1935, an open house for the members and their parents was held at the home of Mary and Teena Pool. The officers and the hostesses received, and Mrs. T. Guy Rogers, Mrs. A. J. Ivey, Miss Frances Smith, and Mrs. Otto Mintel, mother of the president, helped serve the delicious refreshments. A program consisting of several readings by Gloria Griffin, a cello solo by Catherine Pool, accompanied by Eunice Schilling on the Piano, and several guitar duets by Helen Keele and Lucille Carruthers was given.

The club assisted on the Christmas program given by the Junior Business and Professional Women's Club at the St. Anthony Hotel. A Christmas Cheer skit was presented, and Christmas carols were sung.

A Christmas banquet was given at the Country Club on December 20, 1935, for the members and their escorts. The table was decorated with tiny Christmas trees and huge bowls of poinsettias. Every guest received a gift off the beautifully decorated tree. A toast to the escorts was made by Helen Waide, and Sylvan Kaplan responded. The M. J. R.'s are the first Jefferson club to give a date-banquet.

Martha Jefferson Randolph

A joint meeting with Hayne Debating club, brother club to the M. J. R.'s, was held on February 26 in the school auditorium. A business meeting was followed by a social in the cafeteria, and lovely refreshments were served.

The Martha Jefferson Randolph and Hayne Dance on May 1, was one of the most successful dances of the year and was enjoyed by all who attended. Lovely green palms and gay colored lights gave the school gymnasium a festive air, and an unusual floor show added to the gaiety of the evening.

The annual spring banquet, honoring the departing seniors, was held on the St. Anthony Roof. The most outstanding club member of the year was presented with a gift, and the president received a gold M. J. R. president's bracelet, the club's usual gift to an outgoing president. The seniors bade farewell to the club, and the officers for the coming year were announced.

Many M. J. R.'s were prominent in other school activities. June Broe was editor of the Declaration; Teena Pool, Mary Lou Clapp, Lois Gragg, and Helen Waide were R. O. T. C. sponsors; Gloria Griffin and Virginia Anderson won first and second places respectively in declamation; Mary Catherine Herdy played the leading role in the school play, "Peggy and the Pirate"; Helen Mintel was the only girl in the school who went out for debating; Laura Anne Wimer was president of the Math Club; Enid Roessler was club editor of the Annual; Sarah Guttman was president of the Science club; Helen Waide was mascot of the Haynes.

The officers for the second term are as follows: President, Helen Mintel; Vice-President, Louise Leonard; Secretary, Enid Roessler; Treasurer, Helen Stewart; Parliamentarian, June Broe; Historian, Mary Catherine Herdy; Sergeant-at-Arms, Catherine Pool; Custodian and Reporter, Mary Pool.

Martha Skelton Literary Society

The Martha Skelton Literary Society was organized February 21, 1932, under the sponsorship of Miss Theresa Terrell, with twenty-six charter members. The name of the club was derived from that of the wife of Thomas Jefferson. Her family crest adorns the club's rings and pins and appears on all of the club stationery, place cards, and various forms of invitations.

The membership has increased this year to sixty-eight girls, the limit, however, being one hundred and twenty-five girls. The members are selected from the student body. A very high academic qualification is held for membership, a girl being required to have a "B" average, with no grade less than "C". She must be of high moral character; she must be interested in the objects of the club; and she must be harmonious with the rest of the group.

The objects of the society are to create a better social understanding among the students, to practice good parliamentary usage, to learn to speak before an audience with ease and poise, to acquaint the members with the various types of literature, and to promote and foster all worthwhile school activities.

The Skeltons gave the first school dance of the year on the night of September 27, clearing one hundred and seventeen dollars and twenty-five cents. The proceeds of the dance were spent in purchasing shrubs, bulbs, flowers, seeds, and beautiful plants, to continue the beautification of the Skelton patio and keep it the most beautiful spot on the school campus. The dance was in every way regarded as a success.

The Skeltons were well represented in the election of various class officers. This year Barbara Browne was elected Treasurer of the senior class; Peggy Locke, Reporter; Margaret Ofner, Secretary; Margaret Craig Adams, Historian. In the junior class we have these two officers: Bernice Lehman, Secretary; Mary Lou Powell, Treasurer. In the sophomore class we have these three officers: Dorothy Perkins, Vice-President; Sybil Rollet, Historian; Gloria Henning, Secretary.

The Skeltons have always been well represented in the R. O. T. C. This year Margaret Craig Adams was Major Sponsor, this honor having remained with the club ever since the founding of Thomas Jefferson High School. Marguerite Raeber, Margaret Ofner, Barbara Browne, Billie Louise Modaff, and Helen Seale Charlton were also chosen as sponsors.

Several Skeltons were chosen mascots of various boys' clubs, namely Senate, Margaret Craig Adams; Haynes, June Longist and Billie Louise Modaff; Jeffs, Ella Taylor.

The Skeltons have also had many girls who were outstanding in their grades and many who were officers of other clubs in Jefferson this year. We were well represented on the "Monticello" Staff and in the National Honor Society and the Student Council. The club has developed leadership and initiative in its members. In choosing the members, the club has sought girls with high attributes of character, talent, and ability, which can be developed into something useful to the school in its activities.

The officers of the Skeltons for the spring term are as follows: President, Mary Dittmar; 1st Vice-President, June Longist; 2nd Vice-President, Gloria Henning; Recording Secretary, Leru Huxtable; Corresponding Secretary, Alice Beakley; Treasurer, Mildred Caldwell; Sergeant-at-Arms, Margaret Craig Adams; Parliamentarian, Tippy Foster; Reporter, Helen Patton; Historian, Bernice Lehman.

Pan-American Club

The Pan-American Club, organized in 1933 with Mrs. G. C. Carvajal as sponsor, is now sponsored by Miss Anita Rose Martinez.

The club endeavors to bring about a better understanding and a closer relationship of our Hispanic neighbors through a series of well-organized programs. On November 7 Miss Edith Johnston, State Director of the Pan-American Student Forum, spoke to us.

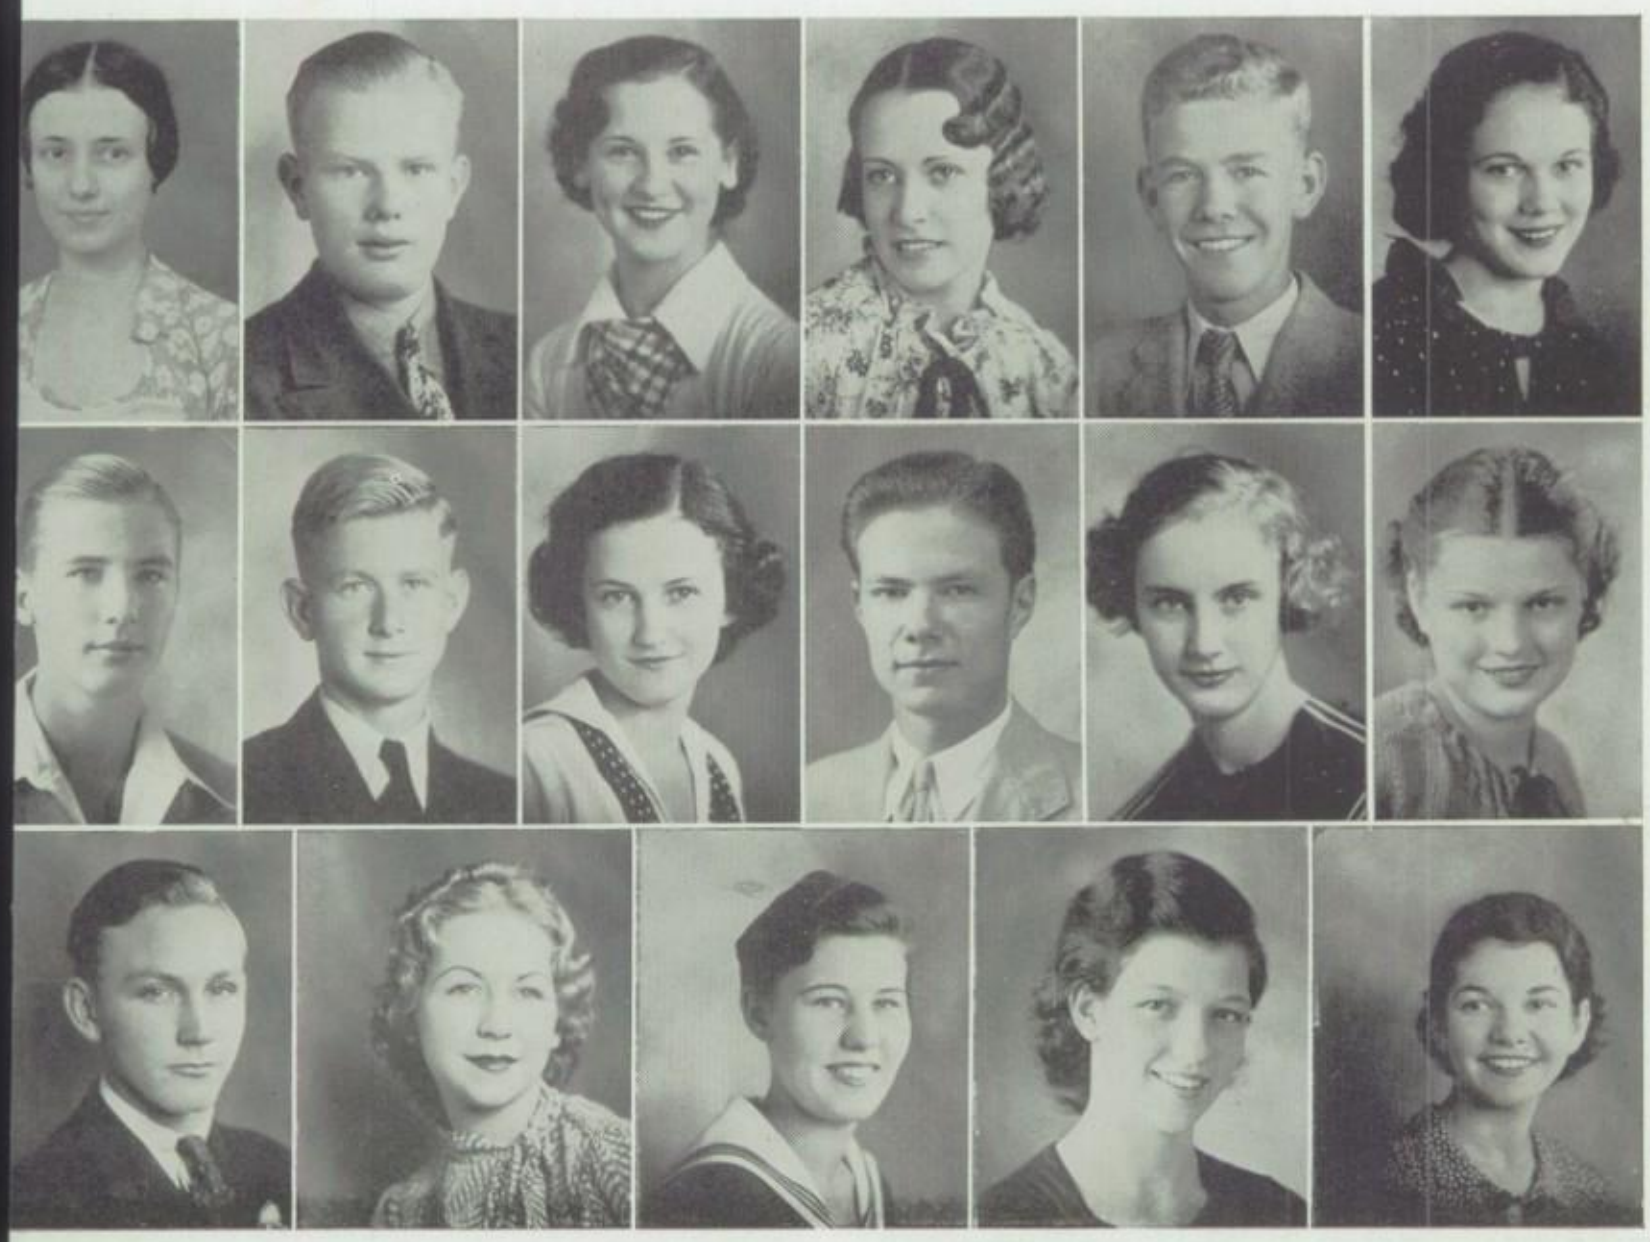
On December 19 Louise Redford, our president, entertained the club with a Christmas party at her home. This was indeed a memorable occasion.

On January 6 when the Pan-American Round Table held its annual banquet, at which Governor James V. Allred was guest speaker, the Jefferson Pan-American club was represented by its sponsor and its president. On January 15 the Pan-American Student Forum, which includes clubs from Jefferson, Brackenridge, Tech, and Lanier, sponsored a game party at the Gunter Hotel to defray the expenses of the club at the State Pan-American convention in Austin, March 7 and 8.

The colors of the Pan-American are blue, which signifies courage, and white, which signifies purity. Our motto is, "Of one blood hath he made all nations." The emblem on our pins and banner is typical of our name.

Our parliamentarian is also parliamentarian of the junior class, and our president is also president of the Pan-American Student Forum of San Antonio. Among the members of the club we find five exceptional, two excellent, and three good students.

The officers for the spring term are the following: President, Ruby Saenz; Vice-President, Billy Stovall; Secretary, Helen Kreuder; Treasurer, Olive Kimball; Parliamentarian, George Sanford; Historian and Reporter, Virginia Veatch; Sergeant-at-Arms, Gentry Williams.



Top Row: — Miss Alva Rossy, Sponsor; Fritz Knust, Pres.; Esther Scharlack, Sec'y; Esther Engelmann, Treas.; Carl Biebers, Margaret Bosshardt. Schiller German Club

The Schiller German Club, under the sponsorship of Miss Alva Rossy, was organized October 11, 1935, with twenty-eight charter members, students of German. The club was named in honor of Friedrich Schiller, a famous German poet and dramatist.

The meetings have been held the second Friday of each month in the homes of members. Many of these meetings have been conducted in German.

Since the object of the club is to foster interest in the study of German people, our entertainments have carried out this aim. The first two entertainments were at the homes of Fritz Knust and William Eisele, where German songs and games, in which all took active part, were enjoyed.

The third meeting was a Christmas social at the home of Jane Rice on December 13, 1935. Here the old German custom of having a Christmas tree and exchanging gifts was carried out. Also German Christmas songs were sung, and we played a German game. The hostess then served ice and cake.

At the fourth meeting we enjoyed an outing at the Smith cottage in the Scenic Loop Playground, the hostesses being Joyce Smith, Esther Engelmann, Jayne McKenzie, and Esther Scharlack.

The club issued a handmade yearbook in club colors, blue and gold, the members of the yearbook committee being Jayne McKenzie, Anita Lux, Esther Engelmann, and Omer Lear. Our club flower, the cornflower, was sketched in the yearbook by Margaret Bosshardt. Our motto, "Speech is silver; silence is gold", was also included. One of Schiller's poems occupies a prominent place in the book.

The club officers for the spring term are as follows: President, Fritz Knust; Vice-President, Jayne McKenzie; Secretary, Jane Rice; Treasurer, William Eisele; Reporter and Historian, Annie Muenker.

Scribblers' Club

The Scribblers' Club was founded in September, 1933, by thirteen charter members who were interested in creative writing and who had been together in English three terms. The club remained under the very able sponsorship of Mrs. Ethel West Weaver, charter sponsor, until her new duties with the school yearbook interfered; Miss Martha Hill then graciously consented to become the sponsor.

The Scribblers have always entered the "Scholastic" literary contest, the highest honor, a national prize, having been won by Calvin Williams in 1934. His story, "On the Sidewalk," appealed so strongly to the great short story critic, Edward J. O'Brien, that he printed Calvin's story in "New Stories", published at Oxford, England. Other members have also won honors in contests.

The object of the club is to further the love and appreciation of literature and to inspire the members to be writers of tomorrow. Members lead the club meetings in the study of interesting types of literature, and original work is read.

Many enjoyable social meetings, memorable in the hearts of us all, have been held. The most interesting social was a lovely Christmas banquet at the Rio Rita Inn in December. In the spring Miss Hill entertained the club with a delightful party.

The officers of the spring term are as follows: President, Parker Higgins; Vice-President, Carolyn Kirk; Secretary, Dorothy Belle Whipple; Treasurer, Martha Jean Strange; Parliamentarian, Mendez Marks; Historian, Marjorie Walthall; Sergeant-at-Arms, Maury McGarraugh.

Statesmen Society

Under the leadership of its sponsor, Mr. Arrowood, the Statesmen Society enjoyed the most successful year in its history. As a result of the many activities in which it participated, the club distinguished itself in school affairs and gained a place of prominence among the student organizations.

Last year the Statesmen, in order to promote interest and develop talent in the field of debating, sponsored an inter-club debate tournament in the school. Defeating the M. J. R.'s, the Haynes, and the Senate, the Statesmen team captured first place and the club was awarded possession for one year of a loving cup donated by the M. J. R.'s. Members of the Statesmen team representing Jefferson also succeeded in defeating Brackenridge that year. This team made several trips to neighboring cities, and in Fort Worth were defeated only by the San Jacinto High School of Houston.

This year, due to the efforts of Mr. Arrowood, debating was added to the list of subjects taught in Jefferson. Statesmen history repeated itself in that the Jefferson Interscholastic Debating Team was composed entirely of Statesmen. Members of the Statesmen team were selected to represent Jefferson in the interscholastic debates with Brackenridge. The Interscholastic Debating Team recently distinguished itself by winning third place in the Alamo Heights annual statewide tournament.

Due to its enlarged membership, the Statesmen meetings now take place in Statesmen Hall. The club is looking forward to a very successful year in debating, and it hopes that it will serve Jefferson this year even more efficiently than it has in the past.

Second term officers of Statesmen are as follows: President, Sylvan Kaplan; Vice-President, David Bonner; Bailiff, Thomas Hathaway; Secretary-Treasurer, Ralph Mayan.

The Senate

To promote educational qualifications, to create better social understanding, to develop initiative and leadership, to teach correct use of parliamentary law, and to foster all worthy school enterprises is the objective of the Senate club. These ideals the Senate has followed during this year as in the past. As a result it has been successful in its numerous enterprises, adding this year as banner year to its long and prosperous record.

Under the able leadership of our presidents, William Johnson and Bob Sawtelle, and the diligent guidance of our co-sponsors, Mr. E. E. Edwards and Mr. R. W. Arrowood, the Senate has even surpassed its former record of service for Thomas Jefferson. The Senate won, as usual, the much-coveted prize in the Annual sales contest. For this outstanding work six members — Ed Simms, George Nassauer, Bob Sawtelle, Charles Cole, Orville Carr, and Conrad Netting — were feted with a trip to Padre Island through the courtesy of our co-sponsor, Mr. Arrowood.

Shortly after the contest the Senate conducted a pay-dance in the school gymnasium, the first of two dances held by the Senate during the year, for, setting a precedent, the Senate held its second dance during the spring term. The monetary returns of these dances were turned over to the school to help pay for the very colorful band uniforms.

The Senate also enjoyed many social entertainments. A trip to Poplar Beach on September 27 resulted in mutual coöperation and friendship, which was kept up throughout the year by jamborees, socials, and dances, two of the most interesting being a trip to Kerrville, where the Senate spent a week-end, and a social at the home of Miss Eva Keller, one of our lovely mascots. To climax the year, the Senate held, as a final salute to our departing seniors, the Senate dinner-dance. Despite an aura of sadness, caused by the departure of our older members, the dinner-dance easily retained its enviable position as the most outstanding social event of the year.

As in the former years of its existence, the Senate was again studded with the stars of the high school. Proud to claim them as its own, the Senate had on its roster these celebrities: Gaston Scott, Editor of the Annual; Mac Oliver, Vice-President of the Student Council and Vice-President of the Senior Class; Charles Schutz, Cadet Major of the R.O.T.C.; Albert Schutz, Captain-Adjutant of the R.O.T.C.; Grady Yarbrough, President of the Senior Class; Ed Simms, President of the Junior Class; and Bob Burney, President of the Sophomore Class.

During the year the germ of consolidation touched the Senate, steps having been taken to lay the foundations of a statewide organization of Senate clubs by delegates of the clubs meeting each year to discuss the ways and means of building a better youth.

Because they added a touch of feminine loveliness to the masculinity of the club, the Senate was proud and pleased to have as its mascots three of the most charming and gracious of the school belles, Miss Frances Duval, Miss Margaret Craig Adams, and Miss Eva Keller, all three sponsors of the R.O.T.C., Miss Adams holding the high honor of Major-Sponsor.

The second term officers are as follows: President, Bob Sawtelle; Vice-President, Orville Carr; Secretary, Kemp Adams; Treasurer, Horace Masterson; Historian, Randall Henderson; Sergeant-at-Arms, Louis Sien; Parliamentarian, Maury McGarraugh.

Shakespeare Literary Society

The wheels of time turn rapidly, and here we are facing another summer and finishing the fourth season of the Shakespeare club work in Jefferson, our club having been reorganized in 1932, twenty years after its organization at old Main Avenue High School. There is a gleam of satisfaction in the eyes of the members, due to the knowledge of their own growth and development, the result of service to others, and the human understanding which comes from contact with fellow students.

The original purpose of this club was to foster interest among its members in social, economic, educational, cultural, and civic life. The club is now making a serious endeavor for even broader service. Our goal is to promote some project beneficial to the school.

It is with a great deal of pride and enthusiasm that we introduce to you our president, M'liss Vaughan, Thomas Jefferson's "belle" and an R.O.T.C. sponsor. We gaze with pride upon her activity record.

Through this efficient leadership of our president and the able supervision of our sponsor, Mrs. Lota House, the club has made noticeable progress throughout the year and has maintained the splendid standard of former years. The club officers, staunch supporters of our president in their untiring efforts, have helped to make the organization a success. They fulfilled their duties so well that they were re-elected for the spring term. However, as Miriam Wiseman, secretary, was elected mascot of Haynes, Fillis and Margie Van Wie were elected to take her place as secretary.

Although all Jefferson students were very enthusiastic over the Annual sales contest, our club won third prize when three prizes were offered to the clubs selling the greatest number of annuals. As our group is a small one, we were very proud of this fact.

As our project for the year, we decided to use our money to assist with the new band uniforms.

The social life of our club is emphasized. Once every month some member is hostess to the club in her home. This meeting is a stimulus toward better co-operation among the members. The outstanding social event of our club year was a social at the home of Anne Boyle, 237 West Agarita, where we entertained the Jeffs, our brother club. The Jeffs reciprocated with a social honoring the Shakespeares. The spring dance was presented in the school gymnasium, and an assembly was presented before the school by the members.

The Shakespeare Club has been proud to display its talents, which are interesting and versatile. We are indeed proud to have in our club those who have attained the prominence of R.O.T.C. sponsors. For attaining this honor we extend congratulations to M'liss Vaughan, Eva Keller, Frances Duval, Eleanor Laverty, Madelon Hall, Margie Van Wie, Fillis Van Wie, Donnie Fraser, Peaches Brewer, and Miriam Wiseman. It is with pleasure that we announce other celebrities of our club — Eleanor Laverty, who was chosen mascot of the Jeffs; Eva Keller and Frances Duval, who were chosen mascots of the Senate; and Laura Wells, President of the National Honor Society.

To the officers of our club, who by virtue of their hard work and ability in their respective positions have earned our praise, especially to M'liss Vaughan, whose splendid leadership and vibrant personality have endeared her to each and every member, and to Mrs. Lota House, the inspiration of it all, we extend our heartfelt appreciation.

Thespian Club

The Thespian Dramatic Club, organized with nineteen charter members on February 17, 1932, has long been acknowledged as an outstanding social group as well as one of the active dramatic organizations in Jefferson. The object of the club is to further an appreciation of dramatic art, to learn parliamentary procedure, and to promote friendship among its members. The Thespians are old in tradition but young in ideals.

To learn something of dramatics, the Thespians present a short play at a meeting once each month. The club's annual play, "The Kleptomaniac," was given in the school auditorium on March 5, the proceeds of which were used to beautify Thespian Island. The group made a creditable showing of their histrionic ability.

Once each month the club held a social meeting at the home of a member. At these socials a program was presented by the members of the club and refreshments were served.

Initiation ceremonies of the September pledges were held at the home of Dorothy Compton. At this time the club mascots, George Delavan and Harold Nickerson, were also initiated. The Thespians are one of the few girls' clubs to have boys as mascots.

The chief project of this organization has been the improvement of Thespian Island. The club has had grass and shrubbery planted on the island and has sponsored the building of a lily pond and walk. The girls themselves contributed goldfish and snails for the pond. The club already has spent considerably in excess of two hundred dollars on this project.

The Thespian Dramatic Club has always been willing and glad to coöperate with the principal, faculty, or school, in any project benefiting the school at large. Proof of their interest is the fact that the entire membership attended the school play, "Peggy and the Pirate," in a body, on February 19. Members of the club decorated the three rows which were reserved for Thespians with the club's colors, lavender and gold. This fine spirit of coöperation and this outstanding ability of the members were thus combined to make a very successful year.

The Thespians had stickers made of the club emblem. These seals contain the original design of the Thespian Dramatic Club pins and are in lavender and gold. They have been on sale during the past term by members of the club.

The girls gave a very successful dance in the spring. Proceeds of this dance will be used for further improvement of Thespian Island.

At the end of the season the Thespians held a delightful banquet honoring the graduates. At this banquet toasts were made to the seniors and to the officers. Many outstanding school officials were present as honored guests of the club. This parting banquet is one of the traditions of the Thespians.

Another of the traditional hobbies of the club has been keeping a picture of the group from term to term. On every outstanding occasion at which the club is assembled pictures have been taken. Many of these have been enlarged and framed to hold a permanent place in the meeting room of the club.

A number of Thespians play important roles in school life. The club is proud of the accomplishments of these outstanding members.

Under the fine leadership of Elaine Schulze and Patricia McCarty and the helpful guidance of Mr. Frederick Abbott, the sponsor, the Thespians have spent a thoroughly enjoyable and profitable year.

The officers for the spring term are Patricia McCarty, President; Dorothy Stanard, Vice-President; Esther Scharlack, Secretary; Audrey Jean Schulze, Treasurer; Lorraine Patteson, Parliamentarian; Margaret Basse, Sergeant-at-Arms; and Frances Hynes, Historian and Reporter.

Thalian Literary Society

The Thalian Literary Society had its first meeting in September, 1932, with fifteen charter members present and with Miss Courrege as the sponsor. The club met for the purpose of furthering the interest of its members in world literature. The club has had a very interesting history. As this is Texas Centennial year and traditions are the order of the day, it is interesting to look back and see this origin of the Thalians.

In 1935-1936 the Thalians had forty members. The club reorganized for the purpose of promoting fellowship and forming school-wide friendships. Miss Stel Marie Culotta is now sponsor.

The Thalians' most interesting project this year has been making their book of original poetry, short stories, and plays.

Socials are given every month, and an initiation party for the new members is held at the beginning of each term. The girls thoroughly enjoy these memorable occasions.

At the social on the evening of March 20 a green and white motif was carried out in decorations and in refreshments. The centerpiece was of purple iris and lilac on a filet lace cloth. Green and white tapers added to the color scheme. Miss Stel Marie Culotta, sponsor, assisted by Jean Lightfoot, president of the club, served at the punch table. Dancing and games were enjoyed during the evening. Chaperones for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fontaine, Mr. and Mrs. S. Marmur, Mesdames H. A. Phillips and C. Noble, Misses Frances Smith and Stel Marie Culotta.

The election of officers takes place two weeks before the close of the term. The officers for the spring term are the following: President, Jean Lightfoot; Vice-President, Charlotte Rohr; Secretary, Shirley Masterson; Treasurer, Pauline Gardner; Sergeant-at-Arms and Historian, Mary Ellen Hanson; Reporter, Donelda Mills; Parliamentarian, Elizabeth Fontaine.

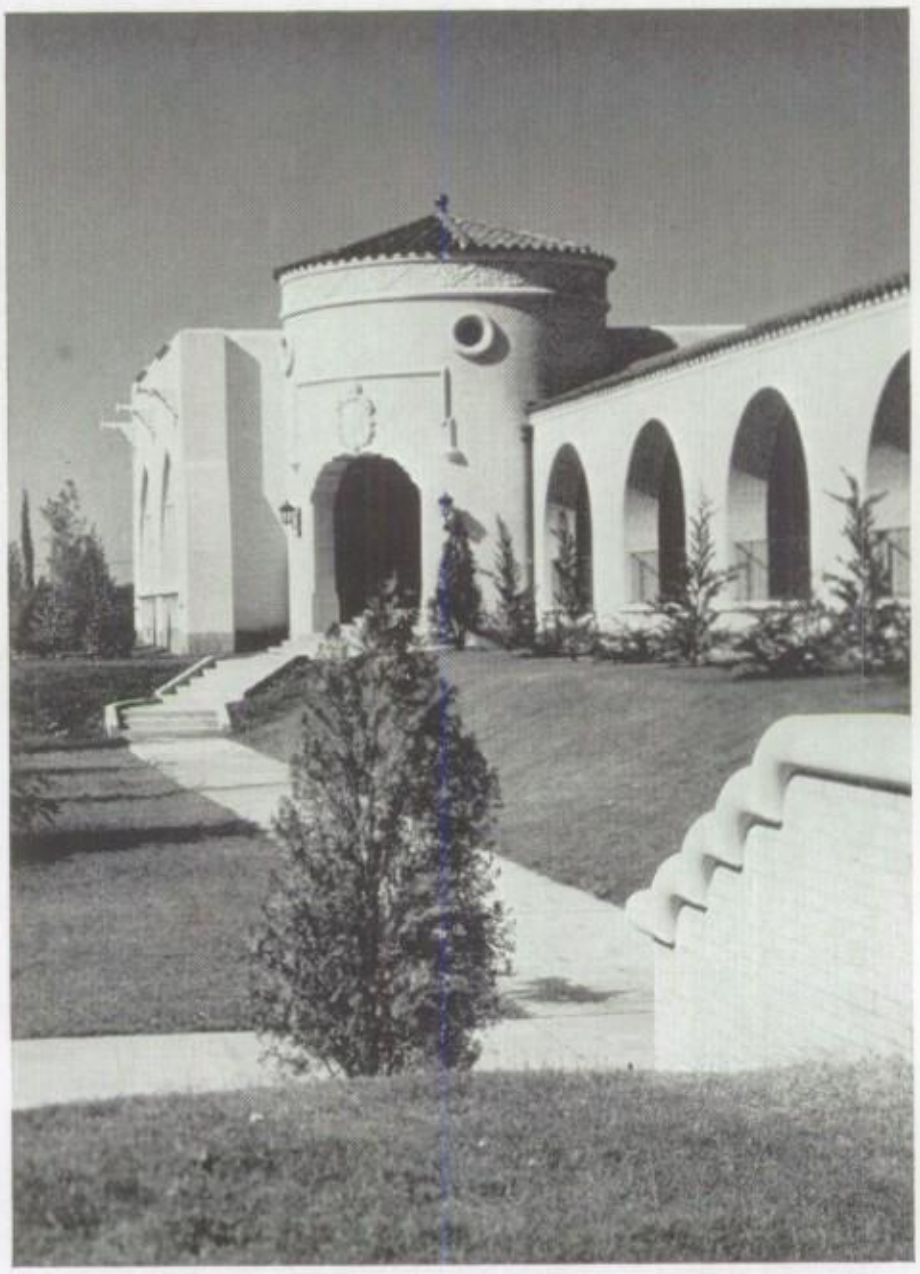
The Edwards Advisory

The Edwards advisory is an all-boy advisory, the only one of its kind in Jefferson. This year the advisory won first place in the annual P.T.A. drive for membership; it also was among the first in contribution toward the "Declaration." The advisory helped a family in need at Thanksgiving and at Christmas. Their aim is to be one hundred per cent in everything they undertake.

To promote interest in the advisory, some member entertains each day with a short talk on an interesting subject. Meredith Cain made an interesting talk on his travels in Mexico. Bob Kissinger gave the history of the Big League. "Ikey" Stansell talked on the Deisel engine. On one day the whole advisory had a heated argument with Hugo Wallace about baseball. All matters are carried on strictly according to parliamentary rules until the mascot visits the advisory; then everything else is abandoned for entertainment by the mascot.

The mascot for the year, Sara Kay Curtis, entertained with several skating parties and a dance; and the advisory mother, Mrs. Parker, and a few of the other parents entertained the members of the advisory and their dates with a skating party. To promote further interest in the advisory and friendship between members, an outing was held at Camp Warnecke where they had all the food that the advisory and Mr. Edwards could eat, and then some. A Mexican dinner was held at La Tapatia, honoring the old members and the newest additions to the advisory.

Officers for the fall term were as follows: President, David Parker; Vice-President, Albert Prucha; Secretary, James Parker. The spring term officers are these: President, Terry Maule; Vice-President, Tommy Bishop; Secretary, John Kenagy.



James B. Bonham
"Hero of the Alamo"

ACTIVITIES

Gallant patriot, deliberately choosing to die for Texas, Bonham calmly returned to the besieged Alamo while the siege was at its worst. Quietly he sat on his weary horse and looked down on the Alamo. He must carry his message to Travis, his friend, that no aid was coming; so, unafraid, he dashed through the enemy lines and back into the fortress. One of the four immortals of the Alamo, Bonham is a worthy example for us all. What greater deliberate heroism can the annals of history present?

Presidents' Council

The Presidents' Council, a dream-come-true on the part of George Delavan, president of the Student Council, held its initial meeting on October 4 at a luncheon given in honor of the presidents of the various clubs and organizations in Jefferson. At this meeting Principal T. Guy Rogers congratulated the presidents and explained that this council was to formulate policies that would make the school the best in the state. He also stated that he hoped the Presidents' Council would inspire even greater school spirit among the students. At this meeting Captain Joseph B. McShane, Commandant, Miss Mamie A. Brawner, Student Council Sponsor, and Miss Frances Smith, Dean of Girls, also spoke to the assembled leaders.

The Presidents' Council is a step forward in Thomas Jefferson, as club rivalry will be replaced by club coöperation.

Second term presidents of the clubs that reelected officers in February are Joseph B. Dart, Architectural Club; David Parker, Edison Science Club; Fred Houck, Haynes; Dorothy Flowers, Hermes; Charles Hoefgen, Jeffersonian Forum; Amy Ruth Thorn, Knickerbockers; Sylvan Kaplan, Non-Com. Officers' Club and Statesmen; Parker Higgins, Scribblers; Bob Sawtelle, Senate; and Patricia McCarty, Thespians.

Declaration Staff

The Declaration, fortunate in having Miss Ella Stone as sponsor, published these four special editions this year: two English, one Centennial, and one Texas State Teachers' edition.

In the Texas High School Press Association contest June Broe won a cup for the best short story and Dick Besselieu a cup for the best sports story.

In the Quill and Scroll contests Santos Marmolejo won a medal for news evaluations; June Broe was adjudged one of the five best in the South Central States for her advertisement; and Esther Scharlack, one of the best in the South Central States in editorial writing and current events.

The paper won first place in the Quill and Scroll contest, conducted by Northwestern University, first place in the N.H.S.P.A. contest, conducted by the University of Minnesota in 1935, and All-American in 1936.

All one hundred and four journalism students entered at least one phase of the journalistic division in the "Scholastic" contest.

Monticello

The Monticello staff, well aware of its responsibility to make your annual live up to your expectations, has earnestly endeavored to produce a book which you will cherish as a reminder of your school days at Thomas Jefferson. We have tried to bring you every phase of Jefferson life from the seriousness of classes to the gaiety of parties and football games.

The most outstanding features of our year's work have been the tremendous enthusiasm of the student body and the remarkably fine coöperation of the faculty, the office, and the clubs, for all of which we are sincerely appreciative. We are also grateful to our two photographers, our engraver, and our printer for their beautiful work.

Outstanding among this year's earnest workers are the members of the Managing Editor's staff: Katherine Bennetzen herself; her two senior assistants, Margaret Lacey and Nell Anderson; Pearl Borschow, Junior Assistant Managing Editor, and her two assistants, Rebecca Ransom and Vivian Vetters. The entire responsibility of typing was in the hands of these six fine girls.

Our staff — busily planning your annual.

Monticello

Also praiseworthy is the work of all of the juniors, especially Mary Cotter, who through her unusual selling ability won the double honor of her name on the Monticello loving cup and the position of Advertising Manager for 1937.

The beautiful art work of Gordon Biggs and Margaret Bosshardt, all of which was planned and carried out in the Annual Office, is in evidence throughout your book. Arnold Schindler's work as Panel Editor was also of utmost value. Eldridge Avera's art work on the three subdivision pages deserves mention.

Another view of the Annual office — next year's staff in the making.

Without the extraordinary ability and loyal leadership of our sponsor, Mrs. Weaver, your annual as you now see it could not have been achieved. Coöperating thoroughly with us, she has enabled us to produce a book in which our hopes and ambitions will have been realized if it also pleases you.

The 1936 Monticello will keep before your eyes the glorious Centennial year of Texas. In years to come may you cherish this book and enjoy it as much as we have enjoyed preparing it for you.

Student Council

The Student Council is recognized as one of the most active organizations in the school. It was organized to promote activities which are of service to the students, to act as an advisory body in conjunction with the faculty on important matters affecting the welfare of the school, and to maintain high standards of conduct and honor with reference to all high school work and extra-curricular activities. The Council's aim is to render service to the school at all times and to support a form of student government in Jefferson.

Our Christmas tree for our own students in our beautiful corridor.

The organization is composed of one representative from each advisory, elected according to specifications set forth in the constitution of the Student Council. There are nine honorary members. The honorary members include the presidents of the senior, junior, and sophomore classes, the Major and Major-Sponsor of the R.O.T.C., the editor of the "Declaration", the editor of the "Monticello", the school press agent, and the vice-president of the senior class.

The outstanding project of the Council this year has been the beautification of the Student Body Patio. The organization has had shrubbery planted and has sponsored the construction of a large lily pool in the center of the patio. To finance the landscaping of the patio, the Student Council presented a show, "Surprises," on November 19 in the school auditorium.

Two interesting social affairs have been enjoyed by the Council. The annual banquet was held on May 6, a Texas Centennial motif being featured. At the end of the season the Student Council gave a picnic.

The daily duties of the Council have included maintaining a Lost and Found Bureau and an Information Desk, representing the student body in various matters of courtesy, and furnishing and arranging flowers for the library.

Checking State textbooks in and out twice each year, chartering new clubs, and installing presidents of all school organizations are also duties of this group.

An assembly welcoming the new sophomores was given under the supervision of the Student Council.

This welcome made the new students feel at home more quickly.

Student Council

The Council has undertaken the task of preparing for sophomores a handbook containing information about the school. It will be given to those students who enter Jefferson next September.

The group keeps in a scrapbook a record of all important school activities.

The Student Council has sponsored Color Days before all important football games and has decorated the field for these games. School colors, pins, and stickers are sold throughout the year by representatives.

Another of its major activities during this year was the provision of Christmas Cheer, through the advisories, for about seventy families. The group decorated and placed Christmas trees in the main hall and in the library.

Making pom-poms for the Turkey Game.

An assembly was given on Mother's Day, at which time the mothers of Jefferson students were presented with flowers.

The Student Council this year stressed the learning of the school creed, which aptly expresses the ideals of the Council:

"I believe in sincere effort, faithful fellowship, kind and generous friendship, and hearty coöperation.

Student Council

"I believe in upholding the ideals and standards of Thomas Jefferson High School, and I believe in loyalty to this school and its activities."

The fine leadership of George Delavan, president, and the excellent guidance of Miss Mamie Brawner, sponsor, have led the Student Council through another very successful year of outstanding and helpful activities.

The standing committees for the year were as follows: Executive Committee, Margaret Ofner, Virginia Hagood, Esther Scharlack, Orville Carr, Josephine Houston, Wade McNeill, Louise Leonard, Barcus DuBose; Flower Committee, Maurine Friedrich, Josephine Houston, Courtesy Committee, Peggy Locke, Chairman; Scrapbook Committee, Lorraine Patteson, Chairman; Patio Committee, Barcus DuBose, Chairman; Lost and Found, Esther Scharlack, Chairman; Information Desk, Virginia Hagood, Chairman; Field Decoration Committee, Edwin O'Connor, Chairman; Christmas Cheer Committee, Josephine Houston; Checkroom Committee, Maury McGarraugh, Chairman.

Only two changes were made in the officers for the spring term. Wade McNeill was elected treasurer; Barcus DuBose was elected reporter.

Orchestra A

The "A" Orchestra, consisting of fifty-six members, played on innumerable occasions.

In April these fourteen outstanding members were sent to the Great Southwestern Music Festival in Roswell, New Mexico, at which meeting they won fourteen prominent places, nine of which were first chairs: L. Atkinson, G. Blumberg, M. Cain (two first places), H. Dibble, L. A. Goodwin, P. Higgins, G. Knaus, B. J. Lockhart, S. Lockhart, W. Lucas, C. Pool, M. Rickard, R. Robin, and R. Rogers.

Our Mr. Zoeller, directing — the reason why music means so much to Jefferson.

Two local performances are outstanding. On November 21 the orchestra and the band presented "Divertisement" for the benefit of the new band uniform fund. On February 19 the orchestra played the entire accompaniment for the school operetta, "Peggy and the Pirate," the members deserving much credit for their untiring efforts and the many hours spent in rehearsal.

School Band

The School Band members have been very colorful in their new West Point style uniforms. The new uniform has blue slacks with a red side stripe, red West Point jackets, trimmed in blue, and a red West Point cap.

The Band has been a valuable asset to the school. It contributed materially to the success of the football games. On October 31 it played at Concepcion Park for San Antonio's opening of the Centennial celebration, later responding to all Centennial calls. The Band marched in the Armistice parade on November 11 and in the Bandmasters' Parade on February 1, at which time it was judged the most attractive of the twenty-five Texas bands present at the convention. During the Fiesta de San Jacinto it played numerous times, climaxing the week by playing in the Battle of Flowers Parade and in an important band contest. The Band was also the most outstanding band in the Centennial celebration in Goliad.

Activity Orchestra

The Activity Orchestra, one of the finest service organizations in our school, is composed of eighteen members selected from the Band and the Orchestra. It plays popular hits and symphonic arrangements of popular tunes. This fine organization and its director, Mr. Jerome Zoeller, deserve the popularity they have achieved among the students because of the unusual service they render and the innumerable afternoons and evenings spent in rehearsal.

Orchestra "B"

Among the many dances and shows for which the members played are these: "Divertisement", presented in collaboration with the Band, on the afternoon and evening of November 22, a dance following the evening show; the Senior tea-dance, October 21; the Entertainers' show, October 24; the Student-Council show, November 7; the Monticello All-School dance, December 6; the Brackenridge Senior jamboree, December 13; the Monticello Hall of Fame dance, February 28; the Shakespeare show, March 19; the Hermes dance; and all assemblies.

Glee Club

The Girls' Glee Club, formerly organized in old Main Avenue High School in 1925, was affiliated with the State and National Federation of Music Clubs. It has maintained this relationship ever since. It has given many concerts and recitals and has appeared before both State and National Conventions of the Women's Federation and the Music Federation. It has also given recitals at Southwestern University and Westmoorland College.

At Jefferson, where it was reorganized in 1932, it holds a unique position. Not only is it a classroom activity, for which full credit is given, but it is also a recognized school club, very proud of its charter, number thirty-seven. Its officers thus have the dual distinction not only of being classed as school leaders, whose names and positions are recorded in the Annual, but also of having their names recorded in the State and National Archives of the National Federation of Music Clubs.

The club also functions as a Vested Choir, annually singing the Vesper of evening service at many of the principal churches.

On March 22 over K. T. S. A., at the third broadcast this season, the Glee Club sang lyrics by the Poetry Club with music by Mr. de Burgos, who deserves much credit.

Dramatics, Debate, and Declamation

In 1934 and 1935 the first debate team in the history of Thomas Jefferson won the District championship under the able coaching of Mr. Roy Arrowood. This year the debate squad was composed of Sylvan Kaplan, Thomas Hathaway, Harold McCrabb, and David Bonner. In the invitational tournament held at Alamo Heights, in which were entered ten schools, including the state champions of 1934-35, our boys took third place. In the city meet Sylvan Kaplan and Thomas Hathaway were defeated by a vote of two to one.

The aim of the classes in dramatics is to produce a student body with quickened imagination, better developed bodies and voices, and a keener appreciation of art. There are eight classes a day in dramatics, one class in costume, and one in production. In the Interscholastic League One-act Play competition Jefferson has won the city and district meet two years and second place in the city the other two years. Miss Wolf and Miss Orrell teach dramatics. Miss Wolf directed the state play, "Drums of Oude." Miss Orrell directed the senior play.

Mendez Marks, declamation winner in the City contest.

In declamation Mendez Marks won first place in the city competition on March 26. Ellen Depka won second place. Miss Orrell was coach.

James Bowie
"Hero of the Alamo"

PICTORIAL

Helplessly ill with typhoid pneumonia, brave James Bowie, epic figure of frontier life, lay on his cot in the besieged Alamo, rebellious at his inability to be in the thick of the fight. Every day he called for men to carry him to the doorway, where again he could give his orders to his two companies that Travis be obeyed. On that last night "before the dawn" he slept feverishly with his famous Bowie knife clasped in his hands. Next morning around his cot lay the dead and dying of the enemy. Big Jim Bowie's illness had not held him back from the fight.

General Albert Sidney Johnston

"Commander of Texas Army"

R . O . T . C .

The gallant young Albert Sidney Johnston, destined in later years to become an immortal on the field of Shiloh, was made Commander-in-Chief of the Texan Army shortly after he joined it in the summer of 1836.

His fine courage was early in evidence. In San Antonio, in 1839, a Comanche chief dismounted and signaled to Johnston to take care of the Indian's horse. Fearlessly General Johnston replied that he himself took care of his horses and the Indian was to take care of the Indian horses. Instantly the Indian chief recognized real courage, and he detailed his own men to care for the horses. This same splendid disdain for danger went with Albert Sidney Johnston always.

Battalion Headquarters

The Battalion Heaquarters, usually known as the staff, may be designated as the brains of the battalion, as each order given during the year must originate in the Battalion Headquarters. The success of the work and the completeness of the training planned by the staff is assured by the strict observance and careful guidance of Captain Joseph B. McShane, our commandant.

Under the direct command of Charles D. Schutz, as Major; Albert D. Schutz, as Adjutant and second in command of the Battalion; Frank Slaymaker, as Intelligence Officer; Joseph Dart, as Plans and Training Officer; and William P. Mullener, as Supply Officer, the Battalion was able to complete a year of activity, which not only saw the retaining of the Honor rating, but also fostered many activities which brought much attention to our battalion. Forming a headquarters of their own, not strictly acting as an intelligence unit, these charming sponsors strengthened our staff: Margaret Craig Adams, Major Sponsor; Frances Duval, Adjutant Sponsor; Billie Louise Modaff, Fillis Van Wie, and Dorothy Compton, First Lieutenant Sponsors.

Captain Joseph B. McShane, Commandant, the reason why the Corps stands high.

Officers' Club

Although founded principally as a social organization, most of the time in the Officers' Club meetings is spent in discussing the problems which arise from time to time during the company drill periods. All business and discussion is carried on under the supervision of Cadet Captain Clyde Parker as club president with the able assistance of Cadet Major Charles Schutz. The main purpose of these club meetings is to induce a feeling of comradeship among the companies in the battalion and to enable the companies to coöperate with each other more fully.

The Club has subscribed to the Infantry Journal, which will be placed at the disposal of the officers and non-commissioned officers. Along with its other projects, the Officers' Club is helping with the formation and maintenance of the R.O.T.C. Museum and Library, for which many valuable articles have already been brought.

Captain McShane and Mr. Arrowood sponsored a group of officers and men on a trip to Camp Hulen, Texas. They left school on Friday, March 20, and returned late Sunday evening after an enjoyable week-end of fishing and boating. Other social meetings have been thoroughly enjoyed, such as the R.O.T.C. Dance; the Armistice banquet at the Gunter Hotel, the corps drawing much attention when it formed in the very center of busy St. Mary's Street, with traffic diverted, so that the officers, men, and sponsors might march in military fashion into the hotel; the luncheon given by Captain and Mrs. McShane; and Margaret Cartwright's open house, honoring the officers and sponsors.

Sponsors' Club

Although the sponsors of the R.O.T.C. originally organized the Swastika Club in 1933 under the leadership of Miss Mattie Brewer, in the fall of 1935 the name was changed to the Sponsors' Club, coördinating with the Officers' Club. The object of the club remains the same—to be of social aid to the Battalion. The social side has been very pleasant indeed. At the annual R.O.T.C. dance the sponsors were introduced more impressively than ever before. As each name was called, the sponsor walked to the center of the dance floor to receive her commission, later joining her officer. A colonnade of sabers was formed by the officers, through which the sponsors marched in pairs. A grand march climaxed the celebration.

Among the other delightful social affairs enjoyed by the sponsors was a luncheon given by Captain McShane in the Gunter mezzanine. At the Armistice Day banquet many distinguished guests were present. Toasts were given by the Captain sponsors; speeches were made by the major, the Major Sponsor, and the Commandant; and an entertaining skit was presented by the sponsors. The Corps was honored this year by the presence of Mayor C. K. Quin at the banquet. Also this year Miss Margaret Anne Cartwright entertained the officers and sponsors with an open house at her home, following the Jefferson-Brackenridge football game in November.

Aside from the social events given throughout the year, the sponsors have taken part in several civic projects, such as selling poppies on Armistice Day for the Disabled Veterans. On all occasions they have worn the beautiful new military uniforms designed this year by Captain McShane to replace the former cape-style uniform.

"Great Texan Scout"

ATHLETICS

Erastus Smith, leader of scout service for General Sam Houston, was invaluable to the Texas cause. The most spectacular event of his courageous life was the destruction of Vince's bridge. Erastus Smith and his men galloped the eight miles to the little bridge built of cedar and pine; with axe and fire they destroyed it; then they galloped back in time to play their part in the Battle of San Jacinto. The destruction of this bridge directly led to the capture of the enemy's commander and the end of strife.

Jefferson Athletics

One of the best forms of school spirit is exemplified in the athletics of Jefferson. This department includes not only the major sports, football, basketball, baseball, and track, but also golf, tennis, swimming, boxing, and all forms of gym work.

For boys, Mr. Harry Hamilton and Mr. Cecil Burnett supervise football, basketball, track, and swimming. Mr. Hollis Schulz has charge of boys' gym classes. Mr. Calvin Surtees is coach of the Ponies. Mrs. Pearl Doolittle and Miss Rowena Holliday have charge of girls' gym classes, tennis, golf, and dancing. All of these teachers play an important part in developing the muscles and spirits of the Jefferson students.

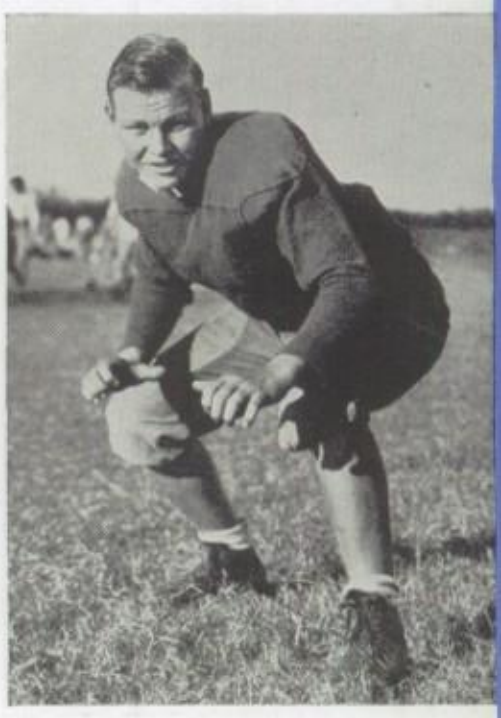
Football

With only a remnant left of last year's district championship team, Coaches Harry Hamilton and Cecil Burnett set about building another winning team.

On September 20 the Mustangs played their first game, beating Beaumont by the score of 19 to 0. In this game "Bubba" Reeves thrilled the crowd with his 80 yard touchdown run that occurred in the closing minutes of the game, and the entire squad thrilled their supporters with their strength and determination.

On Saturday, September 28, the Jeff Mustangs met the strongest team that has yet appeared in San Antonio. They emerged from the field with a moral victory, if not an actual victory, for the score was 19 to 0 in favor of the Sunset Bisons. Power and great blocking were the main reasons that Sunset beat Jefferson; however, everybody was proud of our boys, for they fought until the end.

EUGENE CHAMBERS
Mustang Captain



Jefferson lost the third game of the season, October 5, to the John Reagan Bulldogs. The final score was 25 to 12. It was a tight game until the very end, with either team liable to win. Hugh Wallace played great ball the entire game, scoring Jefferson's second touchdown on a blocked kick. Halloran was the outstanding lineman of this game.

Jefferson stopped its losing streak by defeating San Marcos Teachers' College Freshmen 7 to 0, October 12, at Eagle Field. After three listless quarters the Mustangs finally began to show some improvement, and they scored immediately. A. B. Chambers made the only spectacular run of the day, starting from Jefferson's 25 yard line and ending on San Marcos's 20 yard line. Charles Parrett passed to "Bub" Reeves for Jeff's tally.

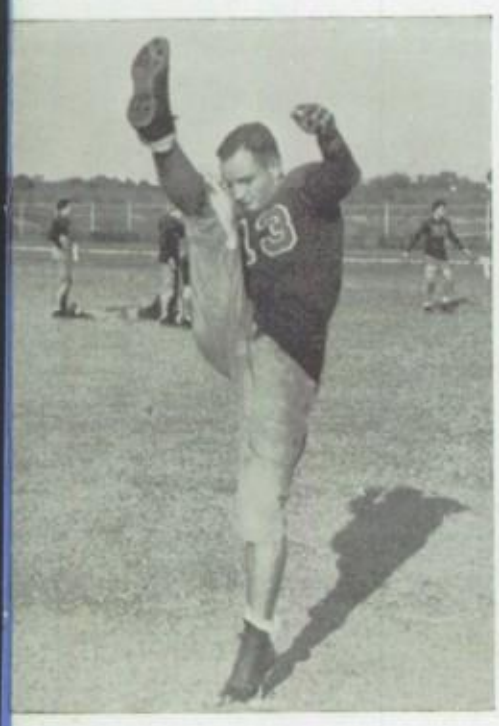
Football

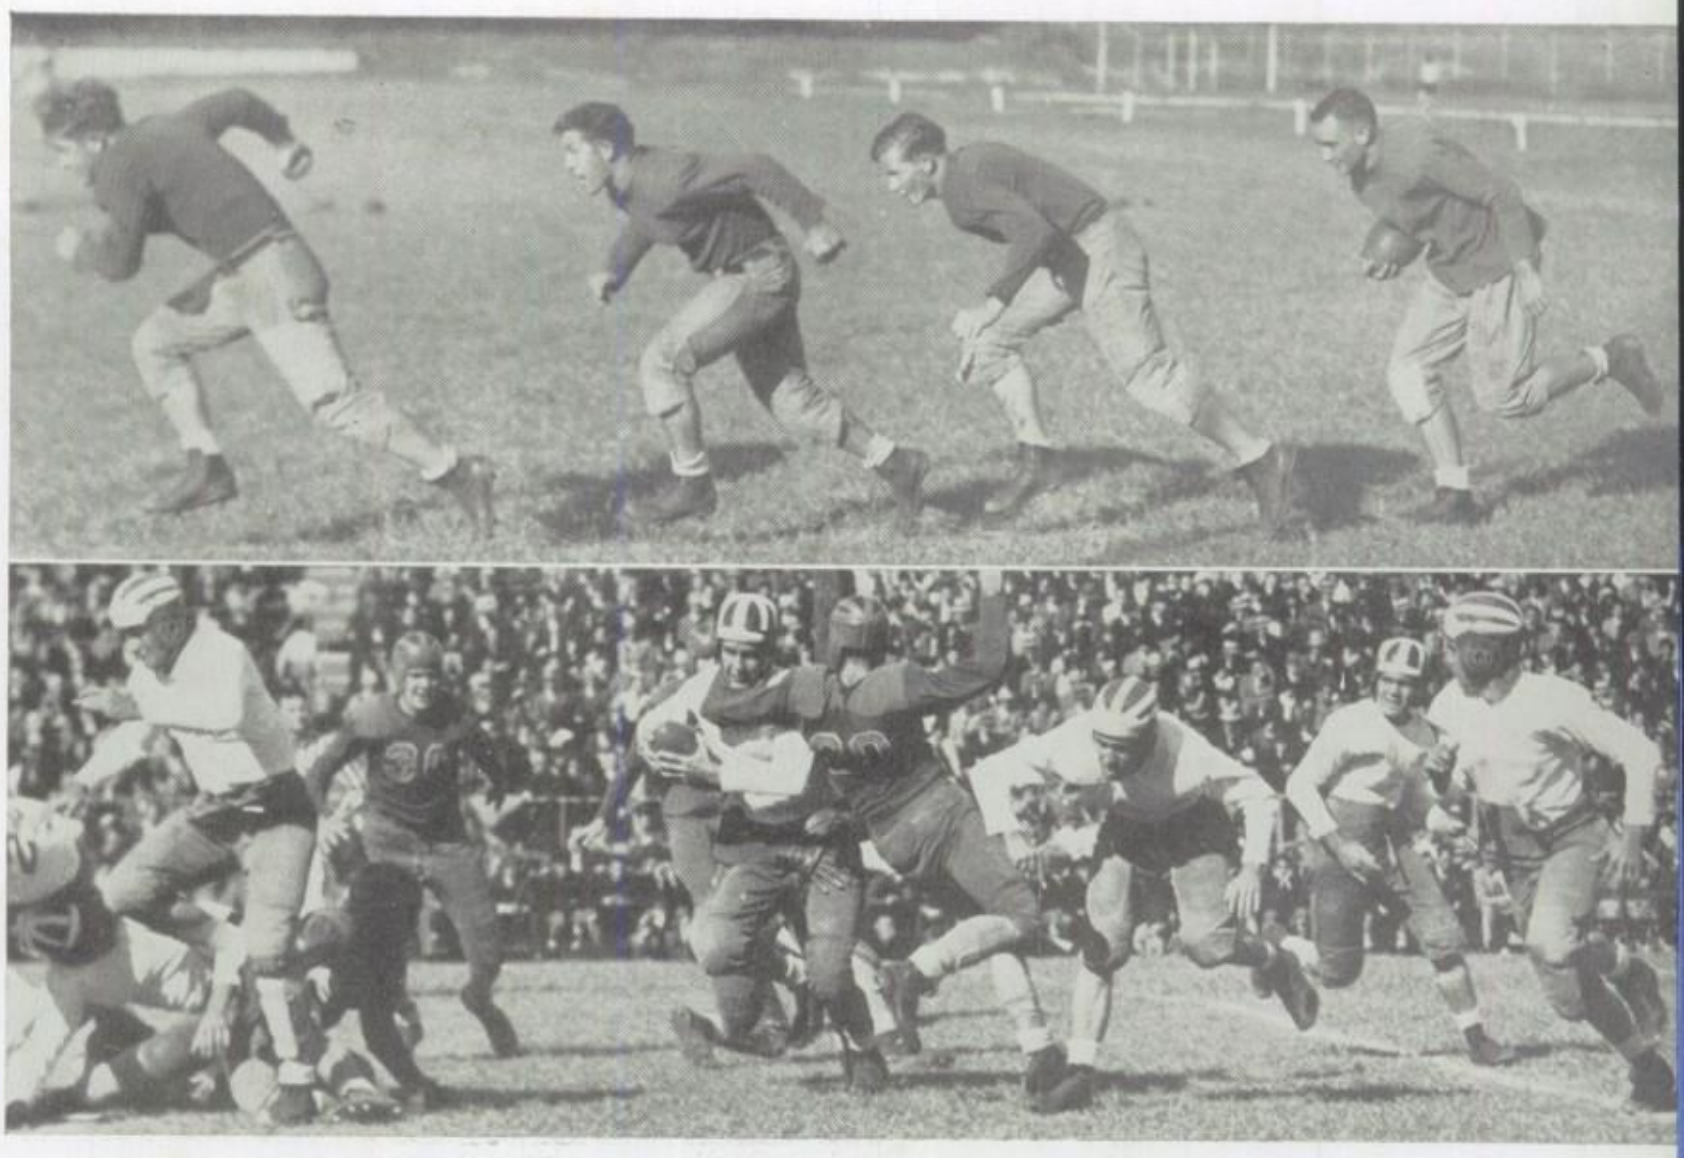
On October 18 Jefferson permitted San Angelo's opening kick-off to roll across the goal untouched. San Angelo recovered the ball for the opening touchdown and the margin of victory. Soon after, A. B. Chambers went around the end for a 40 yard run, resulting in a touchdown for Jeff. Charles Parrett added the extra point to put the Mustangs ahead 7 to 6. In the second quarter San Angelo scored again, putting them ahead 13 to 7, which was the final score. Jefferson, playing against a heavier team, did well to hold the Bobcats to 13 to 7.

A. B. CHAMBERS
Mustang Captain



On October 25 Thomas Jefferson won their first district game from Austin by the score of 14 to 0. Jefferson scored the first few minutes of play. The score resulted from a recovered punt by Jimmy Le Meilleur and a 30 yard run by Chambers. Early in the second half Jefferson again scored on a pass from Parrett to Trager, who leaped high in the air to make a spectacular catch. Austin got past the Mustang 30 yard line but once; this shows what fine defensive work the boys are capable of. This game gave warning to the other district teams to look out.

On November 1 Jefferson wore down a fighting team of Harlandale Indians. A slippery field, a team of heavier men, and the absence of four regulars kept the Mustangs from defeating the Indians more than 7 to 0. "Bub" Reeves sent Luke Palmer across the goal instead of the usual scorers. The Mustangs' defense again shone with McGarraugh, Lane, and E. Chambers as the stars.



UPPER PICTURE: Four Horsemen — Chambers, Reeves, Parrett, Palmer.

LOWER PICTURE: Markette of Brackenridge is carrying the ball; Halloran, Jeff end, has an arm around Markette's neck.

Football

On November 8 the Mustangs kept their district slate unblemished with a 19 to 7 win over S. A. Tech. Jefferson's four horsemen — Chambers, Reeves, Parrett, and Palmer — worked to perfection. Chambers, Palmer, and Reeves each scored touchdowns, and Parrett threw passes with unusual accuracy to make the touchdowns possible. Le Meilleur recovered a Tech fumble that led to a score, and Trager and Halloran continually stopped the Tech backfield.

Jefferson tripped the Tivy Antlers of Kerrville 20 to 6 at Kerrville on November 15. Despite the score it was a nip and tuck battle until the very last. The four horsemen once more stood out with Palmer, Reeves, and Chambers doing the scoring and Parrett the passing and place-kicking. Trager again made a spectacular catch of a pass from Parrett. Le Meilleur and Halloran starred for the line.

In November a colorful crowd of 9,000 watched the Mustangs go down into defeat before the Brackenridge Eagles 9 to 0. It was the Mustangs' only conference loss, but it cost them the district championship. Jefferson started the game with two consecutive first downs, but after that the offense bogged down. The Mustangs seemed to be upset; they fumbled the ball time after time. Heavy penalties on both teams marred the game, and it was anything but the wide-open game promised. McGarraugh, Holder, Scott, Chambers, and Lozano played a good game in the line, while A. B. Chambers, Reeves, and Palmer were the outstanding backfield men.

Considering the starting material and the fact that only six of the team had previously won letters, Jefferson made a good showing. With eleven men back for next year Jefferson has a great chance in football.

Basketball

When Coach Harry Hamilton's basketball players started practice in December, they had a past record to live up to. The Mustangs had won City championships in 1933, 1934, and 1935; second place, in 1931; and third place, in 1932.

On December 17 the Jefferson Mustangs pranced to a 44-15 victory over Alamo Heights. Roddie was high point man with twelve points. Halloran led on defense.

On the night of January 15 nearly 500 anxious fans watched the battle between the Jefferson Mustangs and the Tech Buffaloes at the Brackenridge gym. This loss was a warning to the Mustangs.

On January 18 in the Jefferson gym the Mustangs lost to the Sidney Lanier Voks by 29-13. Lanier's passing was too accurate and their floor play too good.

On January 21 the Mustangs were defeated 43-22 by the Eagles in the Jefferson gym.

In the Jefferson gym on January 22 again the Mustangs lost by the score 27-29. In this game two good forwards, now eligible for Jefferson, were in the tussle.

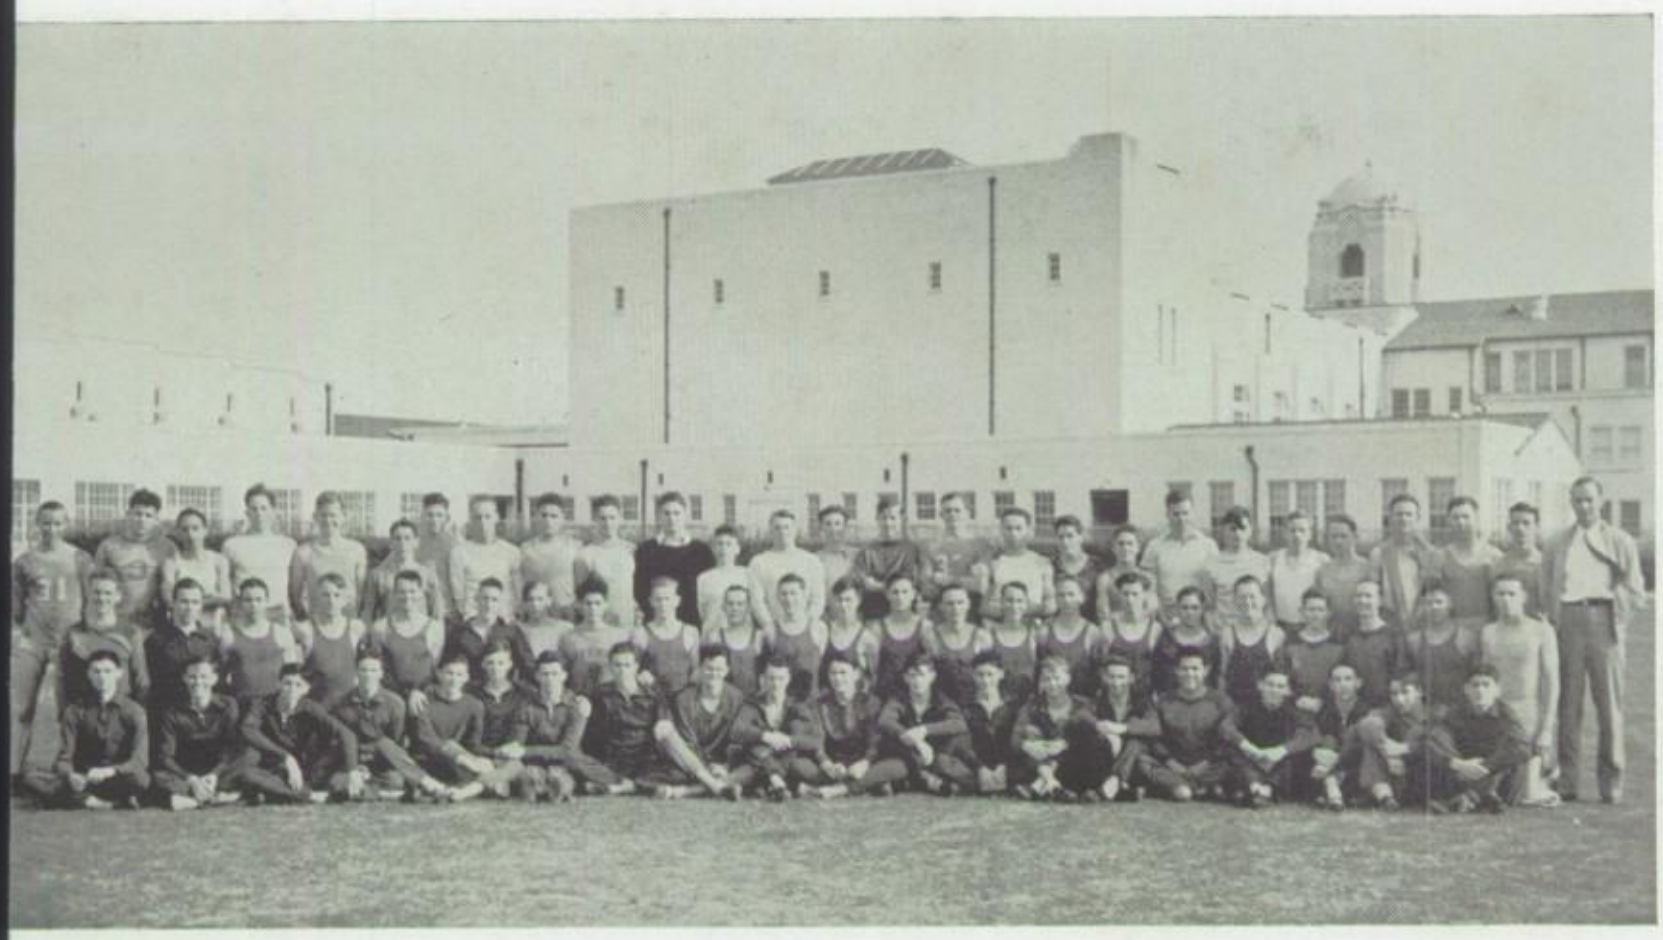
In the Brackenridge gym on January 28 the Mustangs lost by only 37-35 to the Tech Buffaloes. Although Tech got the lead early, the Mustangs' Ball, Taylor, and Zander were a constant threat.

In the Jefferson gym on January 31 the Jefferson Mustangs featured superb defense, passing, and shooting. This victory knocked the Sidney Lanier Voks from the top of the city basketball league.

Although appendicitis, mumps, and measles played havoc with the Mustangs, the boys again defeated the Lanier Voks 32-19 in the Brackenridge gym on February 7. Ball and Taylor were outstanding.

The game with Tech on February 18, with the close score of 33-32, ended the basketball season for Jefferson.

Taylor and Zander both made the all-city team. Although Taylor played only one-half the season, he was the leading scorer of the school and one of the first five scorers of the city.



When the photographer went out to take the track team, all these boys turned out for the picture. No wonder the track record is so high!

Track

Track season opened with a bang this year when Jefferson defeated Brackenridge, Edison, and Alamo Heights on the Jefferson track February 21. Jefferson's mile relay—Benke, Nickerson, Dickeman, and Delavan—broke the Laredo record of 3:42 by two seconds in running against Edison.

On February 26 the Mustangs took eight firsts on their own Jefferson court in a track meet in which Jefferson defeated Lanier, Alamo Heights, Brackenridge, and Stockdale. Delavan of Jefferson thrilled the crowd when he came up fast in the stretch to gain a tie with Bettencourt in the fast time of 2:11.3.

On March 2 at Laredo, Texas, Jefferson won the Border Olympics for the third time in succession, thus earning the right to keep the beautiful trophy. Jefferson Mustangs came first with 18 points.

Again on March 10 Thomas Jefferson took an easy victory over the Edison Bears by a score of 72-50. Jefferson scored most of the points in running events, while Edison was effective in the weights and javelin events.

Then on March 28 Jefferson captured the medley and mile relays in the high school division of the Texas Relays at the University of Texas in Austin. Dickeman, Delavan, Benke, and Villar were first in their events. Other Jefferson athletes who placed were Long, who tied in the high jump; Dillon, fourth in the 120-yard high hurdles; and Trager, third in the shot put.

Jefferson won the third Annual Valley Relay Carnival for the third consecutive time. The boys won seven first places and set three records. The relay team, consisting of Delavan, Benke, Gordon, and Nickerson, set records in the medley and mile relays. Judson Taylor set a record in the high jump, going 5 feet 10¾ inches in the air. Jefferson won medals and two cups. One cup is the permanent possession of Jefferson, and the other one will become so if won one more time. Jefferson also won in the district and regional meets.

Again it can be said that Coach Cecil Burnett has never let Brackenridge beat him in track. His boys have made nine state records and one world record, the broad-jump by Lester Schrimsher. In city track meets Lanier holds one record, four are still good from old Main Avenue, and Jefferson holds nine. Coach Cecil Burnett has indeed made a name for himself.

Baseball

Baseball season opened with more than fifty men turning out. On Thursday, March 12, Coach Harry Hamilton cut the squad down to thirty, six of whom, C. Hoefgen, B. Halloran, A. B. Chambers, E. Chambers, J. Felmet, and L. Palmer, were returning lettermen. Four or five squadmen also returned. Games were booked with the Randolph Field teams to give strength to the squad.

On March 19 the Jefferson nine defeated St. Anthony Yellow Jackets 6-2 in their first game. Hoefgen made three hits out of five trips to the plate. Every Jefferson player got a hit. The Jefferson line-up was as follows: O'Connor, right field; Ball, shortstop; Halloran, third base; Morello, left field; Cardiel, second base; Hoefgen, center field; Palmer, catcher; and Dickson, pitcher.

On March 26 the Randolph Field Ramblers defeated Jefferson by the close score of 6 to 5. Jefferson got several bad breaks and could not seem to make up for them.

The Mustangs met Central Catholic High School on March 30 and defeated them 9 to 6. Louis Palmer and Mike Ball each got three hits.

On April 1 Kelly Field was defeated by Jefferson 8 to 1. After the game the Cadets gave the Jefferson boys a free army meal.

Jefferson was the victim of a 9 to 0 shutout at the hands of Tech on April 2. Dickson, Cooney and Palmer formed the battery for Jefferson.

Evins was the star of the Jefferson team on April 7 when Jeff beat the Austin Maroons 6 to 4. He batted 1000 percent that day.

On April 8 Lanier defeated Jefferson 5 to 2. Halloran, Palmer, and Morello got two baggers for Jeff, and Dickson got a triple.

April 13 Brackenridge outlasted Jefferson by beating them 12 to 10. Halloran and Evins both got three hits.

Physical Education

This department offers the students a wide and varied program of physical activities as well as health information and health habits. The purpose of the program is to give opportunity for participation in many different games and sports in order that the students may have experiences in all phases of physical activities and health education. In this way the students are able to determine which recreational activity is best suited for their particular needs.

The most popular games in the students' opinion are basketball and playground baseball, or softball. Touch football also ranks high, with tumbling, a relatively new activity in the program, gaining in popularity. Boxing is another activity that is well-liked, as are handball and golf, offered for the first time this year. Modified track, tennis, volleyball, wrestling, and calisthenics round out the year's program.

All students are required to take a certain amount of required work, but are also given a chance to choose their favorite games and sports, as optional activities make up an integral part of the program. This enables the students to follow up those activities that will make up their after-school and later life recreation.

The class routine includes instruction in the skills and techniques, practice drills, games of the lead-up type, and actual competition. Each class determines the best teams in the different sports, and intra-mural tournaments are held to select the best team in the school. Successful after-school tournaments have been run off in basketball, touch football, tennis, boxing, and softball. These tournaments are not limited to the physical education classes, but often include the R. O. T. C. and various clubs of the school, thus connecting the work of the physical education department with all boys' activities in the school.

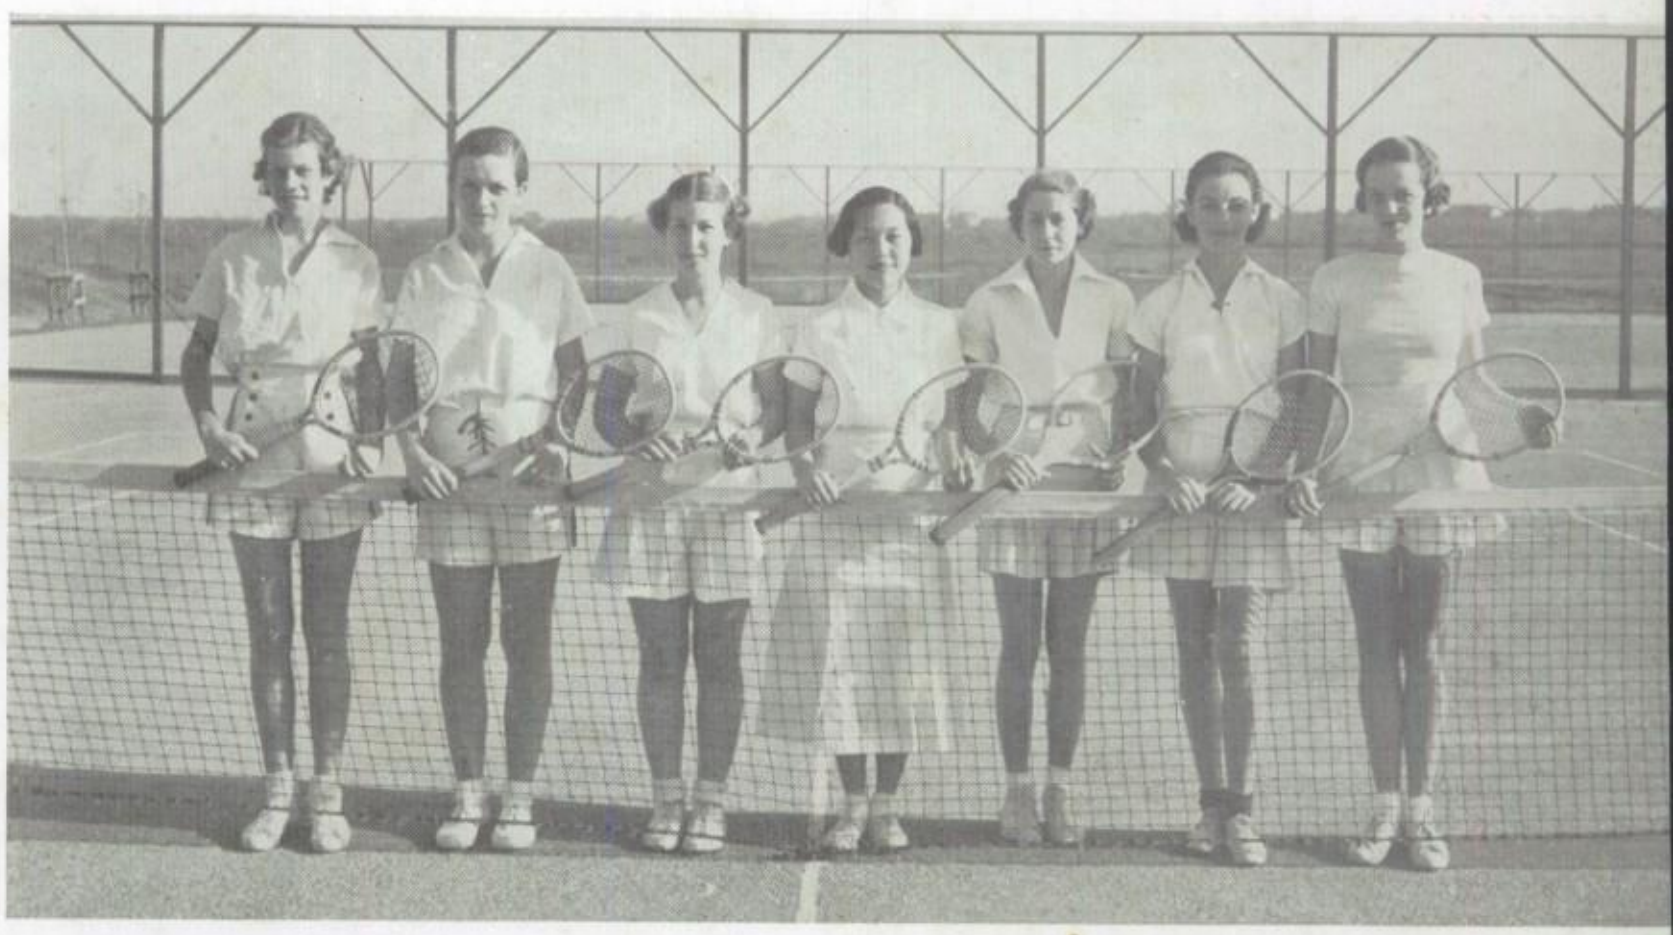
Physical Education

Physical education occupies a prominent place in the daily routine of each girl at Jefferson. Under the leadership of Mrs. Pearl Doolittle and Miss Rowena Holliday all girls are given a chance to participate in such sports as tumbling, dancing, archery, tennis, golf, riflery, baseball, formal gymnastics, soccer, and individual gymnastics. Each girl is required to complete three years of work in the Physical Education Department; however, she may choose her own sports.

Through these various sports much is gained. Health and exercise are only two aims of physical education. Through these activities a girl learns to be a well-rounded being. She becomes coöperative and willing to work with others. Teamwork and sportsmanship are gained. Those girls who are naturally quiet will have an opportunity to become leaders, whereas the natural born leaders learn to give others a chance to lead. Through physical education girls learn to be unselfish. They learn to coöperate, to be good losers as well as good winners, to be thoughtful of others, to be cautious, and to be good team mates.

Girls also learn to be accurate and alert in mind; they acquire a sense of balance and a sense of rhythm, which gives them poise and makes them more graceful. Their muscles are trained to perform certain acts with much skill.

Best of all they can forget their work, get into the spirit of play, and have a grand time sharing losses and gains with other girls. An interested onlooker in the gym or out on the courts or fields would scarcely realize that physical education is a required course by Texas law, the law having been passed in 1930. He would easily, however, see good sportsmanship and character developed before his eyes. He would also see real enjoyment of sport for the sport alone, not for spectators.



Dorothy Leesch, Sammie Simmons, Effie May Russell, Blanche Liang, Mildred Benke, Mary Ellen Harris, Miriam Moon.

Girls' Tennis Team

The Girls' Tennis Team, under the expert coaching of Mrs. Pearl S. Doolittle, has been fortunate in having remarkable players this year. Never before have so many Jefferson girls tried out for the team. Many of these players will compete for Jefferson next year and the year following, adding further glories to their records.

On March 6 a tennis tilt was held between the Jefferson team and the Austin team on the University of Texas courts in Austin. Mrs. Doolittle chaperoned the eight girls who competed. They were Blanche Liang, Sammie Simmons, Mary Ellen Harris, Miriam Moon, Dorothy Leesch, Virginia Poole, Mary McCurdy, and Effie May Russell. Jefferson lost to the Austin netsters by one match.

Scores in the singles in the Austin tennis tilt were as follows: Blanche Liang vs. Austin, 1-6, 3-6; Sammie Simmons vs. Austin, 1-6, 3-6; Mary Ellen Harris vs. Austin 5-7, 5-7; Miriam Moon vs. Austin, 6-2, 4-6, 7-5; Dorothy Leesch vs. Austin, 6-3, 6-4; Virginia Poole vs. Austin, 6-1, 3-6, 6-2; Mary McCurdy vs. Austin, 3-6, 3-6.

Scores in the doubles were these: Effie May Russell and Sammie Simmons vs. Austin, 0-6, 0-6; Mary E. Harris and Blanche Liang vs. Austin, 5-7, 6-3, 3-6; Dorothy Leesch and Virginia Poole vs. Austin, 6-0, 7-5.

Representing Jefferson in the city championship tournament were Miriam Moon, in the singles, and Blanche Liang and Sammie Simmons, in the doubles. The alternate for the singles was Mary Ellen Harris; the alternate double team was made up of Dorothy Leesch and Effie May Russell. The preliminary matches were held at Jefferson on April 2, Miriam Moon winning in the singles. The finals were held on April 18.

All of the girls are working hard to keep their record up to the record set by the girls of the past two years.

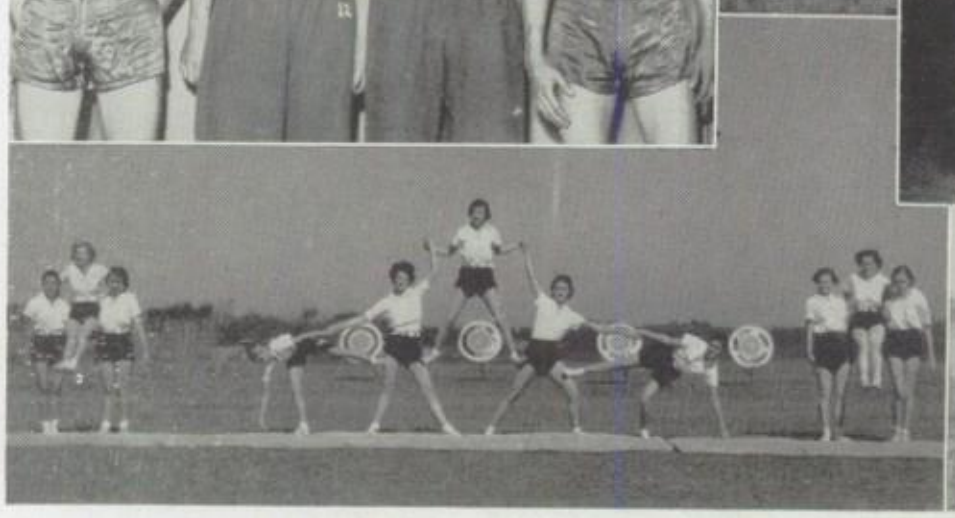
Lasso Pep Squad

"Each for all and all for each" is the motto of the Lasso Pep Squad. This organization, composed of approximately one hundred of the most representative and the most loyal girls of Thomas Jefferson High School, has as its purpose the rendering of service to the school in every possible way. The requirements and obligations of members are these: scholarship, good conduct, dependability, faithful practice, being present every time the organization appears in public as a unit, and ability to secure individual uniforms. The members, dressed in their unique and picturesque uniforms of blue flannel skirts, blue bolero jackets, red satin blouses with full, flowing sleeves, and typical cowboy "Stetson" hats, act as ushers, hostesses, cheering squads, drill team, and in any other capacity to represent their school. They have assisted at P.T.A. teas, receptions, lectures, pilgrimages to the Alamo, San Jacinto parades, and all athletic events.

This year has been outstanding. The Lassos attended all football games, giving a different drill at each event. A spectacular drill was performed on Thanksgiving day at the Jefferson-Brackenridge game. Basketball season also found the Lassos loyally cheering the team to victory. A banquet and theater party was given in honor of the 1935-36 Mustangs, and the red and blue motif was carried out. Under the splendid sponsorship of Miss Constance Douglas the Lassos gave willing service and assistance whenever possible to further the honor and glory of Thomas Jefferson High School and place the Jefferson red and blue on high.

Officers for this year are the following: Virginia Bartholomew, President; Silsbee Telotte, Vice-President; Annie Laurie Dietzel, Secretary; Pattie Wells, Treasurer; Winnie McRae, Cheer Leader; Margaret Marcus, Song Leader; Ann Corry, Historian.

Those Brackenridge boys were terribly in the way...Here's one punt that got off..."Polly Parrett"—Don't get him confused with the ball...Are you after someone, Bub?...The guards, both plump, but Cheezy had the hardest time getting down...Some rackets!...Go ahead and put, Gooch...



Little Willy Trager going for a high one . . . The basketball team — notice the Dutch pants...The renowned Miss Betty Jameson...Somebody jumped the gun —how sad!...Cartwheels even on the Archery range...The most athletic boy in one of his weaker moments...What would a strong wind do to these boys?

A MODERN SOLUTION FOR A MODERN PROBLEM...

Heavy traffic, parking, and driving worries are problems of this modern age undreamed of in the old mule car days.

But the transportation problems of today are perfectly solved by San Antonio's modern all-bus system. Bus service is in step with the times---faster, safer, more convenient, and more economical.
